Dr. Valdmanis Gets 4 Years

Adjudged Guilty of Defrauding
Nfld Government of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Dr. Alfred A. Valdmanis was sentenced today to four years at hard labor in penitentiary here after pleading guilty to a charge of defrauding the Newfoundland government of $200,000. A second charge of defrauding the government of $270,000 has been deferred.

SHIPS TANGLE IN VANCOUVER FOG BLANKET

VANCOUVER (CP)—The season's first fog early today was blamed for a pileup of shipping traffic at the First Narrows in Burrard Inlet.

A tanker, a heavy tug and a loaded car barge tangled with a dip dredge but no one was injured and damage to all vessels was not extensive.

The dredge was one of two engaged in deepening and widening the First Narrows under Lions Gate Bridge. The area was the scene of a marine mishap last fall when a CPR and Union Steamship passenger vessel collided in fog.

ACROSS CANADA WITH MONSARRAT

P.E.I.'s LINK WITH MAINLAND TOO SMALL

Fifth of a Series

Departure from Prince Edward Island was delayed for two hours, owing to the crowded traffic on the ferry from Wood Island. There's no particular hardship involved in spending an extra two hours on P.E.I.—the reverse, in fact—but it can be trying when you spend it under a broiling sun, conscious all the time of a lapsed schedule.

The Wood Island ferry operates two boats, at two-hourly intervals; one holds approximately 25 cars, the other 14. It's a curious fact (pointed out to me by a dockside character in an ancient sea-faring cap) that there are always about 30 cars waiting for the 25-car boat, and always 20 for the 14-car job. Someone, in fact, has to be left behind; this time, it was me and half-a-dozen other luckless travelers.

A LONG WAIT

The trouble was that there was nothing to do. The view was confined to the dock, a huge pile of lobster traps, other people's cars, and other people—drivers in various stages of frustration and despair. It was very hot, as I have said; and we were there for two hours.

I polished the radiator, cleaned the windows, adjusted the slow-running gear on the carburetor, and then adjusted it back again. The sun beat down fiercely. I looked at my watch. Only 15 minutes had gone out of 120.

There was a honeymoon couple in the next car, which was labelled "Just Married" in free-hand chalk on the door. Presently they got out, and wandered off out of sight down the beach. All very well for them.

I listened to the radio, heavily weighted with saccharine commercials about various kinds of soaps and detergents. All too soon, I knew by heart which one was good for my complexion, and which one would ruin my hands next wash-day.

I talked to a friendly man who sold motor-cars in the low-price field. His trouble was that there were too many other people trying to do the same thing. He told me something so wicked that I have forgotten about it, about trade-in allowances. It sounded a very tough league.

The ferry boat appeared slowly over the horizon, a full hour before she reached the dockside. Very tantalizing. The honey-

Rain, Snow, Frost Menace Grain Crops

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Rain, snow and killing frost took over the position of rust today as the most serious menace to Prairie grain crops.

Up to 10 degrees of frost, along with snow flurries and drizzle, hit weakened grain throughout northern Alberta and Saskatchewan Thursday night and was scheduled to swing into Manitoba tonight.

U.S., U.K. Agree On German Equality

Dulles Backs Churchill Government's Plan To Seek 'Full Equality' for Western Germany

LONDON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles of the United States agreed today with the Churchill government to seek "full equality" for Western Germany.

A communique issued after a three-hour meeting at the foreign office between Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Eden said:

"They agreed upon the need for speedy action and favored the early convening of a preparatory conference to consider how best to associate the German federal republic with the Western nations on the basis of full equality."

Dulles lunched with Eden and Churchill at the prime minister's office for about 2½ hours. Then Dulles, Eden and their top advisers continued the talks at the foreign ministry.

In a statement at the airport Dulles told reporters: "We in the United States greatly admire the initiative and vigor which Mr. Eden has shown in exploring the German problem and seeking a solution. I have come here to lend of his appraisal of the situation."

Dulles came here from Bonn, where he and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reached agreement on giving West Germany equal status in West European defense.

In Bonn, the two leaders issued their declaration just before Dulles took off for London. Their communique following a last-minute airport conference said German participation in the Western alliance should be "considered as soon as practicable with the other interested governments and, following a NATO ministerial meeting, should be translated into concrete action."

BCE Forms New Company

Appointment of Dr. Harry L. Purdy as executive vice-president and Thomas Ingledew as vice-president and a executive engineer, has been approved by B.C. Electric's board of directors and was announced today by president A. E. Grauer.

Mr. Grauer also announced the formation of a new subsidiary company, of which Mr. Ingledew is named president, to handle heavy engineering and hydro-electric projects both for the B.C. Electric and for outside clients anywhere in the world.

The new company combines BCE's engineering division and British Columbia International Engineering Co. Ltd., which designed and supervised the building of Cleveland Dam and the gigantic Alcan development at Kitimat.

The new company, which adds a staff of 40 engineers to the payroll, is called British Columbia Engineering Co. Ltd.

Sloan Picked to Settle Canada's Rail Dispute

B.C. Chief Justice Will Arbitrate Labor Issue

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Justice Gordon McGregor Sloan of British Columbia has been selected by the government as the arbitrator in the railway-union contract dispute.

The Canadian Press learned today that the cabinet plans to pass this afternoon an order-in-council appointing the 56-year-old Justice. He will lay down binding terms for new contracts between the big railways and non-operating unions, representing 145,000 workers.

The unions had threatened to strike to enforce their demands, but in August they agreed to accept a government-appointed arbitrator's findings on being faced with the prospect of a strike-averting emergency session of parliament. The railways also accepted arbitration. Prime Minister St. Laurent, arriving today from his Quebec summer home, was expected to announce the arbitrator's appointment after the cabinet meeting, which also will make formal the arbitrator's terms of reference.

Asked on arrival if he would confirm the Sloan appointment, Mr. St. Laurent said: "I won't confirm it until I announce it."

The terms of reference—defining the umpire's powers—were agreed to by the disputants at Montreal earlier this week. The unions are seeking fringe benefits of 18 days a year sick leave, eight paid statutory holidays a year, longer vacation days and higher overtime pay for summer home, was expected to Sunday.

Seasoned Arbitrator Sloan Has Headed Many Inquiries

The appointment as railways arbitrator is Chief Justice Sloan's first entry into arbitration under federal legislation but he has headed a number of Royal Commissions for the British Columbia and federal governments.

One of these was on the operation of B.C.'s workmen's compensation act, and his report on that subject brought him a reputation in the labor relations field. His findings are quoted in Canada and the U.S.

He was asked to step into the province-wide logging strike which crippled B.C.'s woods industry in 1946. The Sloan formula arose from his arbitration of the dispute.

It was found to have approval of both labor and management, and, the Chief Justice was named to head a standing arbitration board for the woods industry.

Since that time, neither side has named a member to the board, both have left the Chief Justice to act on his own, with his findings binding on unions and operators.

When another woods strike hit B.C. in 1952 union and management again asked the Chief Justice to intercede. Telephone and mining strikes also have been settled by Chief Justice Sloan.

LOGGING STUDY

His biggest inquiry job was as a one-man royal commission on B.C.'s $150,000,000-a-year logging and lumbering industry for the provincial government, aimed at conservation of forest resources. His 1945 report of 3,000,000 words was one of the largest ever turned in by a single royal commissioner in Canada.

Mr. Justice Sloan's royal commission was for the federal government. He inquired into fish traps and purse seine fishing in B.C.

The chief justice, a native of Nanaimo, B.C., was a judge of B.C.'s Court of Appeal at the time.

TWO ACRES OF PARIS LEFT BANK DESTROYED

PARIS (UP)—Firemen from 16 Paris companies today battled a run-away fire which destroyed two acres of the famed left-bank section of Paris.

Almost every fire-fighting unit in the city was engaged in the battle before the blaze was brought under control.

ISLAND POSITION IMPROVING

PUC Releases Reasons For Bus Fares Decision

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Public Utilities Commission has reversed its stand and submitted written reasons for its decision to award the B.C. Electric Company higher fares in Vancouver and the Lower Mainland.

Earlier the commission had declined to amplify its decision on the request of the city of Vancouver. City officials said the information was needed to help prepare a direct appeal to the provincial cabinet on the fare increases, the only avenue of appeal available to the municipalities affected.

In a letter today, commission chairman Percy George said failure of the B.C. Electric to show net returns anywhere near its allowed 6.5 per cent rate of return had influenced the decision. He said increased labor costs absorbed by the company and its need to show a good earning position in order to borrow funds for capital development were also factors. Council will consider the submission Monday.

Decision to reject the company's bid for higher fares on Vancouver Island, Mr. George said, was based on evidence showing the company's Island returns were showing a more rapid improvement than those of Mainland operations.

STATE OF PCs IN THE WEST

Kohaly Seen New White Hope For Tories in Saskatchewan

(Associate Editor, Regina Leader Post)

REGINA—The Saskatchewan Conservatives so far have been spared the squabbles which have rocked the party in Manitoba and British Columbia.

Dissension over George Drew's national leadership hasn't had any apparent repercussions among them.

A strong sentiment favors J. G. Diefenbaker, one of those prominently mentioned as a likely successor to Dr. Drew should he resign. This is natural since Mr. Diefenbaker is a Saskatchewan man, the lone Conservative in parliament from this province since 1945. But there's no evidence of a crusade among Saskatchewan's Conservatives to take advantage of what may develop into an opportunity for Mr. Diefenbaker to, at long last, achieve his cherished goal.

The recent squabble in the Progressive Conservative Party in British Columbia has thrown the spotlight on the position of the party in the whole of Western Canada. The question now is: Can the P.C.'s come back as an effective political force in the west? Or have they been forced into a position from which they cannot recover? Out of 219 seats in the four western legislatures there are now only 15 held by Pro-Cons, 12 of them in Manitoba. In an attempt to assess the party's position in the west The Times has collaborated with newspapers in each of the other western provinces: the Herald in Calgary, Alta., the Leader-Post in Regina, Sask., and the Tribune in Winnipeg, Man., to bring its readers reports on "the state of the Progressive Conservative party in the West." Today's article deals with the situation in Saskatchewan.

Party standings in the legislatures are:

	Recorded	Lib.	Ind.	Labor	CCF	Ind. P.C.'s
B.C. (48)	25	5	14	1	1	1
Alta. (41)	32	4	2	1	1	2
Man. (52)	2	32	3	1	1	12
Sask. (32)	10	3	3	1	4	15
Totals (219)	61	31	3	2	6	18

The Grand Old Tory party of Saskatchewan seems too wan and disseminated after a quarter of a century of political disasters to spare any energy for squabbles. A situation does prevail which normally might be conducive to dissension over the provincial leadership such as happened in Manitoba.

A new white hope for the Saskatchewan Conservatives ap-

16,500 on List for Saanich By-Election

A total of 16,500 Saanich residents are eligible to go to the polls Saturday to elect a councillor for a one-year term. Candidates are Edwin Haw, a labor official and former farmer, and Dr. Ronald M. Grant, a naturopath physician and member of the Saanich Voters' Association.

The by-election was necessitated by resignation in August of C. Roy H. Wootton who became a municipal license inspector.

Polling booths will be opened from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Municipal clerk Tribe is returning officer.

VOTING PLACES

Polling stations are at Cedar Hill School, 3099 Richmond Road, Tolmie School, Cloverdale School, Gordon Head School, Cadboro Bay Scout Hall, Marjold Scout Hall, 3890 Douglas Street, Royal Oak High School, McMorran's Pavilion, Prospect Lake School, Tillamook School and St. Martin's Hall.

While agreeing on some issues, the two candidates during their election campaigns were sharply divided on others. These issues are facing Saanich Council today and will have to be determined this year.

The two candidates are strongly opposed to the B.C. Electric plan to erect a 132,000-volt power line to a proposed new Shelbourne Street power sub-station. Dr. Grant has taken an active part in opposing this power scheme with members of the Saanich Voters' Association.

Mr. Haw is also against the power project and has suggested that the utilities division of the B.C. Electric be placed under public ownership. He believes this would lead to cheaper services and issues like the "power project" would be more easily solved.

OPPOSES TRACK

On other issues, Mr. Haw has come out flatly against a race track at Beaver Lake or elsewhere in the municipality. He feels if one group of residents are against the project in their district, they should not wish it on others. He believes the only way to settle the matter is to "kick" the race track out of Saanich.

While Dr. Grant has gone on record as being against the establishment of a race track at Beaver Lake, he says he isn't against the project provided it is submitted to a plebiscite. He suggests the race track be established in the Tillamook Theatre district or in the Burnside and Prospect Road area, but only if the people there are willing.

Dr. Grant also favors a referendum in December to see if Saanich residents sever their connections with the Victoria Public Library. He says he is for maintaining the library services, but feels the council should ask the people if they want to continue paying for the service.

NOT NECESSARY

But Mr. Haw is strongly against holding a referendum on the public library. He claims there is no necessity for this. He believes that the referendum is designed in the hopes that the people will vote against the library and fears that the money thus "saved" will be spent on building a new municipal hall. He points out that thousands of school children, tradesmen and elderly people make use of the library services.

With regard to the proposed plan to construct a new municipal hall, Mr. Haw feels that an annex to the present building will be sufficient. A new hall, he points out, would cost over $400,000 and would mean increased taxes.

Dr. Grant's stand on the municipal hall is somewhat similar, but he says that if such a project can be undertaken without the need of imposing new taxes on ratepayers it should be built. He says the matter should be carefully studied before any action is taken.

MORE HARM THAN GOOD?

'Irrational' ARS Hits Back at SPCA

Capt. James Barr, a former SPCA president, today challenged the current president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to show where the newly-formed Anti-Rodeo Society has created "lasting antagonism" towards the SPCA.

SPCA president Robin Dunsuir Thursday Society for its action in pressing charges of cruelty against five men connected with the rodeo staged last week in Duncan. The five men were acquitted.

Mr. Dunsuir said the Anti-Rodeo Society had done more harm than "good" by taking action against the Duncan wild west show. And he added that the group was causing nothing but trouble for the SPCA which was doing its best to protect animals.

He termed the actions of the anti-rodeo group "irrational" and said the SPCA did not wish to be connected with the group. In reply, Captain Barr said it was difficult to understand how a humane society can co-operate in an exhibition of which the late Magistrate William W. B. McInnes of Vancouver said: "The very basis of the performance is cruelty."

"We agree that we have no connection with the SPCA," he said, "but we could remind Mr. Dunsuir that in Canada any individual or group may take action against unnecessary abuse of animals."

Captain Barr also said he took strong exception to the insinuation by Mr. Dunsuir to the effect that certain individuals associated with the anti-rodeo

Not Taken In

Harry Matt, 1468 Dallas, who told police last week that the old "gold watch" confidence game was being worked by a slicker here, was not a victim himself. An earlier report said that Mr. Matt had bought a watch from the shady salesman. Such was not the case. Mr. Matt had previous knowledge of the man's racket and advised police accordingly. The watches, sold for $20, are later usually found to be worth $1 when appraised by a jeweller, police said.

Grisly Ottawa River Find Marion McDowell's Body?

OTTAWA (CP)—An autopsy has found no indication of foul play in the death of a girl whose torso and legs were found in the Ottawa River Wednesday night.

Dr. W. D. Hays, Queen's University pathologist, said Thursday night the autopsy could find no evidence that violence had taken place before death. He estimated the victim's age at between 16 and 18.

The body had been in the water many months. Meanwhile, attempts continue to identify the girl.

Ont. Roads Minister Rushed to Hospital

TORONTO (BUP)—Ontario Highways Minister George Doucett, target of opposition criticism over multi-million-dollar "irregularities" in his department, has suffered a slight gastric hemorrhage and likely will spend several weeks in a hospital, it was learned today.

Doucett, deputy premier and senior member of the Ontario cabinet, was rushed to the Wellesley Hospital early Thursday after taking ill in his Royal York Hotel room. He had been in sub-par health since a serious motor accident during the 1951 provincial general election.

Only last week, climaxing months of opposition attacks on him over the highways investigation, he had appeared before a legislative committee to deny and be cleared of a perjury al-

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead,—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. — 54

Helicopter Service Planned Here in Year

SQUEAMISH? PASS THIS UP

TRENT, Italy (UP)—Police at nearby Spiazzo Rendena said today they found a corpse propped up in the sunshine.

Antonio Albertini explained it was his cousin, who died in 1944.

The dead man's sister had written to Albertini, saying she wanted the body buried near her home on the Island of Sardinia.

"So I dug him up," Albertini told police. "I was drying him out to send by parcel post."

U.S. Plans UN 'Stall' On China Seat

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials are preparing for a one-day sudden-death struggle Tuesday in Red China's bid for United Nations membership.

The simple strategy, which has been effective in most of the 150 fruitless attempts by the Communists to unseat Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist delegates, will be to avoid a showdown vote on the issue. Instead, the fight is planned on a move to defer action.

A quick settlement of the perennial question would clear the way for U.S. policy statements next week and thus free State Secretary Dulles in time for the proposed meeting in late September of nine countries on the question of German sovereignty and rearmament.

Dulles, who went to Europe to confer with West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden, has announced plans to attend the opening session Tuesday of the ninth UN General Assembly meeting at New York. He will address the assembly, probably Thursday.

RCN Destroyer Haida Puts Into Manila

MANILA, P.I. (UP)—The Royal Canadian Navy destroyer HMCS Haida is now in Manila for a four-day goodwill visit.

It sailed into port Thursday afternoon after completing its second tour of duty in Korean waters and is returning to Canada via Europe.

The ship is commanded by Capt. John H. Charles, who called on Philippine government officials upon arrival.

Vancouver Island will have a helicopter service within a year should application by a Victoria and Mainland group for a license be approved by the Air Transport Board at Ottawa.

The group, not yet incorporated as a company, will be known as Vancouver Island Helicopters Ltd. Helicopters would transport persons and goods from Patricia Bay.

Local representative of the three-man group is 28-year-old Ted Henson, 3884 Shelbourne Street. Mr. Henson was reluctant to disclose names of other interested parties, but it is known that at least one of the mainland individuals is in a financial position to sponsor the service.

18-MONTH STUDY

The group already has one helicopter stationed elsewhere. This would be all that would be needed to institute operations, Mr. Henson said.

Decision on a license will be made known from Ottawa after Oct. 7, deadline for submissions concerning the application.

The project, said Mr. Henson, had been under study for the past year-and-a-half.

"We should know by the year's end exactly what the situation is," he said.

No approach has yet been made to air transport authorities regarding use of Patricia Bay as a helicopter site, but Mr. Henson said that as far as his group is concerned the "facilities are there."

He said his associates were privately financed, not tied in with any existing aircraft operation, he said.

Victoria-born Mr. Henson comes from a well-known city family.

Singing Stars of Tomorrow auditions will start at 1 p.m. Saturday in radio station CJVI. More than 10 Island singers will be heard by the program's musical director, John Adaskin. Approximately 200 singers throughout western Canada are competing this month for a spot on the national program.

CJVI TO REBROADCAST ARENA SERVICE SUNDAY

William Guild, manager of radio station CJVI, announced today that his station would re-broadcast the Memorial Arena service of the Archbishop of Canterbury on Sunday afternoon, between 2:30 and 4 p.m.

"We have received many requests for a re-broadcast and have arranged to clear 90 minutes Sunday afternoon," Mr. Guild told the Times.

State Health Insurance 'Must' Says Sarnia Chamber of Commerce

SARNIA, Ont. (BUP)—The Sarnia Chamber of Commerce has prepared a resolution for the national chamber convention at Halifax next month demanding a state health insurance program.

The resolution, criticizing voluntary and commercial plans, states in an accompanying letter: "Prejudices and preconceptions against compulsory contributory health insurance are wholly selfish."

It claims most commercial plans fail to meet more than one-fifth of all personal medical care expenditures. The chamber says that although 64.2 per cent of persons in the $5,000-a-year income bracket are covered by health insurance, less than 30 per cent of persons in the lower brackets have this protection.

Combined Action on a Fair

BEFORE SAANICH COUNCIL enters the controversy over suggested fairgrounds and a race track in the Beaver Lake area it wants to know what the shouting is about.

That, in effect, is the meaning of Reeve Joseph Casey's comment on petitions sent to the council by residents of his district.

"All we know is that the city has approved the race track project at Beaver Lake in principle," he says. "We can't deal with a project until it comes up before us."

This commonsense attitude should avoid unnecessary misunderstanding about the exhibition-racing scheme and indicate the course that should be taken in respect to it.

The background of the proposal seems to cover the following points:

Wide attendance at various exhibitions, both country fairs and industrial shows in this area, have indicated a genuine public interest in the revival of a major provincial event here.

This sentiment has been paralleled by a growing agitation for a race track, a complement to exhibitions and one which produces substantial revenue for fair purposes.

Any such developments require space in undeveloped or relatively undeveloped areas. Such locations close to the urban centre seem to exist only in Saanich.

The suggestion has been advanced by apparently bona fide interests that a horse racing track be constructed in the Beaver Lake region on city-owned property and that exhibition buildings be erected in the immediate vicinity.

The city has approved the race track in principle.

It should be obvious, however, that any definite action cannot be successful unless it is a joint effort between Victoria and Saanich. The city's unhappy experience in the latter years of the old Willows fair indicates conclusively that a fair cannot be wished off on a municipality which does not want it and finds the location of its grounds objectionable.

Under these circumstances, any revival of an exhibition here should be considered, from the start, as a community enterprise. All municipal units in the whole Greater Victoria area should be kept informed and asked to participate in discussions.

The wishes of residents in close proximity to any proposed site should be given detailed study by civic and municipal authorities. Householders have direct personal and economic interests in such schemes.

Above all, civic and municipal governments should recognize their positions as parts of a whole in such matters. Any exhibition established or re-established in this locality cannot be the child of one district only. Its appeal extends beyond municipal boundaries and its organization and operation should be a joint responsibility.

Despite opposition that has arisen at various times to arguments for amalgamation of civic and municipal services, there is an excellent precedent for a Greater Victoria fair, with chief participation shared by the city and Saanich. Those two groups work effectively and harmoniously on the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee.

Moreover, they, with other municipal units, are partners in the regional planning agency created to recommend courses of development for the lower end of the Island. Since an exhibition site entails specialized use of a large area, the planning board appears to have a compelling interest in the idea.

To date the race track proposal seems to have been tossed without warning into Saanich's lap—though no definite decision has been taken. Any embarrassment created by the manner in which it has been handled could be reduced by closer co-ordination between Victoria and its neighbor.

A little thought on the question, with frank discussion between representatives of both councils, and other Greater Victoria representatives, should be productive at this time. Without that approach, a valuable community project could be wrecked on the rocks of municipal dissension.

Reconstruction in a Hurry

QUITE APART FROM THE necessity for an adequate western European defense system, the need to give quick support to West Germany's Adenauer Government is spurring British and American diplomatic efforts.

When France turned down the EDC plan, which would have linked six European powers into a mutual defense community with a joint army, the Bonn Government, which already had ratified the pact, was left holding the diplomatic bag.

Chancellor Adenauer had been a firm supporter of the EDC plan, under which West Germany would have been rearmend, with certain restrictions, and granted full sovereignty. He had staked his political life on a policy of co-operation with the West. When the West, through the voice of France's Premier Mendes-France, in effect rejected that policy, Dr. Adenauer was left open to serious, perhaps disastrous, attack from his powerful political opponents.

Mr. Eden and Mr. Dulles, of course, fully recognize the implications of France's action. The British Foreign Secretary quickly toured the European capitals concerned and later held a two-day conference with M. Mendes-France from which the announcement was that "we have brought our points of view together." The U.S. State Secretary has flown hurriedly to Europe to confer at Bonn and Paris.

From these talks will come the basis for implementation of Britain's plan to integrate West Germany, and also Italy, into the already-existing Brussels alliance—which consists of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. German membership of this mutual defense group would be followed by membership of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—a move which Canada has endorsed.

There will be many points on which France will require assurance. Included in these are a demand that Britain and the United States should retain their forces in West Germany, and insistence that the German forces shall not be permitted to become larger than those of France.

Despite such restrictions, the new proposals imply rearmament for West Germany and restoration of full sovereignty to the former enemy country. France may yet wish that these steps had taken place under the supervision of the European Defense Community. But no matter under what sponsorship, they appear inevitable in the march of history. True diplomacy will consist in guiding, rather than trying to halt, that march.

Threat Should Be Removed

OVER THE PAST FEW YEARS the small group which is anxious to establish an airport for itself in the Gordon Head area has resorted to various stratagems.

It has boosted the project as a "memorial"—a significance which is not attained merely by tacking that name to an undertaking. It has buttressed the project with talk of a defense installation—although experts have shown that the field would be totally inadequate for modern fighters and bombers. It has called for a helicopter field—although a site much nearer town would be preferable. Now it is resorting to legal technicalities, attempting to show that airport matters are beyond the jurisdiction of municipalities.

The property owners and taxpayers of the Gordon Head and Cadboro Bay areas do not feel that the question of a local airport is beyond their jurisdiction. Six years ago ratepayers of the whole municipality voted overwhelmingly against establishment of a project that would destroy the residential atmosphere of the neighborhood and lower their property values. Many new homes have since been built in the area. Householders who have invested their savings and mortgaged their future in financing homes should obviously have the deciding word on any such proposal. To seek continually, by one means and another, to over-ride the feelings of those most vitally concerned shows little appreciation for the democratic process.

Mr. Wyatt was on sound ground when he advised the city council that it was not good policy for one municipality to own property in another. Particularly is this so when disposal of the property hangs like a threat over the heads of home owners and prospective home owners in the area.

This valuable site should provide homes for several hundred families, rather than a noisy headquarters for a few air-minded individuals. The sooner the matter is settled, the sooner will a cause of constant friction between Saanich and the city be removed.

The Hand of Fate

Chips

By DAVID BROCK

THE other day I needed to catch a few grills in a hurry... a chap was coming to dinner and he happens to have two illusions about grills. One is that I have an unlimited supply at my front door, and they are always biting. The other illusion is that nothing else is fit to eat compared with grills. Well, the quickest way of catching the little rascals is to use garden worms (trotted behind the spoon, they fancy that day... their eye for nickel, copper, and brass appears to vary). I usually have plenty of worms, but I wasted some in a hurry and it seemed quickest to borrow a few from my neighbor's compost heap, which has more worms than mine, and better ones. She was out, but I knew she wouldn't mind. She has hundreds and hundreds of worms to the single spadeful.

KNOWING she wouldn't mind, I wasn't afraid to thank her quite openly next day. "Thank you for the loan of about ten worms," says I, "they were a life-saver." And I handed her three nice grills in part payment. Did she thank me for the fish? Yes, in a way. But she bit my head off for taking her precious worms. She feels that her garden will now fall to pieces. She has read all about worms. A few years ago the magazines and papers suddenly discovered the value of worms (forgetting that Darwin had already proved this a hundred years ago) and they roused a worm-hunger in the gardener that has not yet died away.

IT is useless for me to show her that she owns worms by the million. A certain type of millionaire is the roughest prosecutor of all... according to one school of novelists, anyhow. It is equally useless to show her that worms don't hang round the bad part of her garden, improving that. No sir, the worms make a beeline (or a wormline) for the better soil and stay there. Brock's Theory of Worms is that worms do not cause good soil; on the contrary, good soil causes worms. But gardeners are very religious. God wot, and cannot argue without wanting to kill each other. And in the religion called Gardenism, my neighbor is so very deep in superstition, fetishism, taboo, magic, and fear, I suppose you could call her a green saint, or at least a dabbler in green witchcraft. And if I preached right back at her, in reply to her harangues, she might cast some sort of nasty spell on me. I think I'll leave her worms alone. They might jinx my fishing.

BY THE WAY, I was looking up worms in my encyclopedia just now... that's where I got that stuff about Darwin. And I found out two things. One is that when you cut a worm in half, you should never try to divide him equally, out of mistaken kindness to the two new worms you have turned him into. If you cut him into two unequal parts, both parts will probably live. But if you cut him right in the middle, to be democratic, both parts will probably die. This probably could have some application to political economy, but I can't think what.

The other thing I found out is that the Maoris of New Zealand used to think worms a great delicacy. If served just right, and they reserved certain types of worms for the chiefs alone. I wonder why they stopped eating worms? And I wonder what they did to a man who was low enough to steal ten worms from his neighbor? In any event, it is pleasing to think of a rich Maori glutton announcing that he is going into the garden to eat worms. Hothouse worms, I bet.

GADGETRY

TALKING of fishing, I hear there is a new device for fishermen. It is only three inches long, yet it contains a 10-pound scale for weighing your fish (don't you take your fish home?), a match-striker, a first-aid kit containing band-aids, a bottle of germicide, and a razor blade; and a spare shear-pin for an outboard motor. Oh yes, and a tape measure. These five items (rule, scale, first-aid, shear-pin, and match-striker) are said to "prepare the fisherman for every sort of eventuality." I don't call that much of a preparation for either a really good trip or a really bad one.

What I need myself is a gadget (preferably one inch long rather than three) which contains a watch, a compass, a small bottle of beer, several flasks of tea and coffee, knife, scissors, pliers, a thousand matches, pen, paper, pipe to bacco, cigars, sandwiches, clothes to suit all weathers, boat-mending materials, fresh herring, spare fishing tackle, field glasses, something to carry the fish home in, and a little book of witty answers to use on people who call out "Any luck?"

THE P.R. MAN

I WONDER if there is any sort of business or organization left in the world that doesn't hire a Public Relations man. Last night I was reading about a chap who is publicity man for a large hospital. That is his whole job, his profession. It isn't a charity hospital that needs donations, and it isn't a private hospital that needs to stimulate business. It is a publicly-owned hospital that is always full. It has no need to talk people into feeling sick. Perhaps the P.R. man is there to persuade them to stay away.

JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED

AND speaking of the sick, one of the boys was trying to remember the name of the drug Cortisone the other day, and he said "Oh, you know... the thing that makes you all young and spry again. And somebody yelled out "Cortisone!" Well, that's one school of thought.

SALUTE TO A CHAMPION

Real champions are only proven over a period of time, so let's take a look at Miss Chadwick's records:

Cape Griz Nez to St. Margarets Bay, 24 miles in 13 hrs. 20 minutes.
England to France, 25 miles, 14 hrs. 42 minutes.
Catalina Channel, 23 miles, 13 hrs. 42 minutes.
Strait of Gibraltar, 10 miles, 5 hrs. 6 minutes.

St. Margarets Bay to San Ganette, 32 miles, 16 hrs. 19 minutes. The above swims are all world records, the latter time for 32 miles in my opinion stands as one of the greatest swims ever accomplished by a woman.

Miss Chadwick has proven beyond any doubt to be the greatest woman distance swimmer of all time. I wish Miss Bell all the luck in the world if she attempts to better Miss Chadwick's records, but until then Miss Chadwick must still remain as the true champion.

A BELIEVER IN FACTS

HELPING THE HANDICAPPED

A very timely article in a recent Times, written by Dr. Alvarez, should be read by every citizen of Victoria. Re the rehabilitation of handicapped people in the great cities in the United States.

In a small way the same thing is being done right here in our city under the capable leadership of Mr. Fred Blakeney, who after serving his country in the navy and at the height of a promising career, also himself became handicapped. That doesn't deter Fred who, thinking of others, has organized a social group and is making big plans for future help in wheel chair and crutches can do with a little teaching.

These people, mostly young, do not want charity or pity. Their courage is sublime. The greatest need is a specially built type of hall which could be used as a social centre as well as a classroom.

I may say the equipment has already been promised by a generous lady whose name can't be divulged. Any man or woman or group helping toward our goal will be blessed in the giving. For it is in giving we receive. The happiness seen in faces and voices is already noticeable.

FOR NATIVE SONS

I am instructed by our organization to comment on a letter appearing on the editorial page of Sept. 2 signed by Adelaide Marshall, in which she endeavors to lend a helping hand to a native son who signed himself "Perplexed."

We agree that the backing of all native sons and daughters, as well as pioneers, or "olde-uns" as Mrs. Marshall so aptly names them, is needed to put up a stiffer fight for our native-born who have been educated at the expense of our overburdened taxpayers and then have to leave our glorious province to procure gainful employment in other parts of the world.

It is a well-known expression that "in unity there is strength."

Our organization consists of native-born and pioneers of this province who seek to improve the status of citizenship, to advance the interest and promote the welfare of British Columbia—to uphold the principle of good government—to assist the native-born to establish themselves and better their conditions in their native land, to the end that they may successfully perform their inherited duty of carrying on the splendid work commenced by their forefathers; to preserve historical relics and records relating to the early history and up-building of this province; it seeks to encourage co-operation and harmony which will mean prosperity for British Columbia and Canada.

These are some of the many aims and objects of the organization known as the Native Sons of British Columbia.

If further information is desired by any other native sons they may rest assured of a cordial reception and full information will be placed at their disposal if they will contact the undersigned.

R. H. HISCOCKS,

Secretary, Post No. 1,

Native Sons of B.C.

Marilyn Proved Their Point

I am afraid Tommy Pawlicki, and perhaps some of your other correspondents quite miss the point in condemning what they chose to call the "shameful" boasting of Marilyn Bell's prowess by Canadians.

It is not the "adolescent self-aggrandizement" Pawlicki considers it, but a widespread public protest against a common attitude that nothing is good unless it is American, and that Americans are better at anything than anybody else.

Specifically in this instance the presentation ceremonies that he considers such a "shameful extension of the hurra for our side" were a demonstration by the public of Toronto against the policy of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition in engaging non-Canadian talent for its feature entertainments. For several years Toronto newspapers and public have been protesting that the CNE is no longer a "Canadian National" exhibition, but just another U.S. show. Two years ago the protests, led by the then Mayor Alan Lamport, brought about the resignation of the general manager of the CNE. However, over Mayor Lamport's objections, the directors hired to replace him a former mayor, Hiram McCallum, who, after a half-hearted show at Canadianizing the CNE last year, reverted this year to the former policy of an all U.S. exhibition.

The engagement of Florence Chadwick to swim Lake Ontario as a feature attraction was part of the same pattern. Chadwick is an American, and therefore in the eyes of the CNE directors she is the best. There were Canadian swimmers just as good—events have proven better—but they were ignored.

Marilyn Bell herself had turned pro, after a race at the CNE last year. She was the only woman to finish the Atlantic City marathon. She was good and everybody in her home town of Toronto knew she was good and they were mad when she was passed up. There had been long protests from the time it had been announced Chadwick had been hired instead of a Canadian to swim at what is touted as Canada's National show, and which therefore should be Canadian.

Marilyn Bell entered the swim in response to public demand. Her very considerable expenses were paid for by public-spirited citizens who wanted to demonstrate once and for all that the CNE erred in ignoring Canadian talent, and when the CNE flatly stated they wouldn't pay her a cent even if she succeeded in swimming the lake and Chadwick didn't, Toronto businessmen began chipping in for a prize fund.

Her victory was enthusiastically received by public and press as dramatic demonstration that Canadian talent is as good as foreign talent, while the fact that the finish of her swim drew the biggest crowd ever to witness a sporting event in Canada is proof positive that it is unnecessary for Canada's national exhibition to go outside Canada for attractions.

It has long been a complaint of Canadian artists of all kinds that they have to leave Canada to win recognition. If Marilyn Bell's feat convinces those on whom Canadian artists have to depend for introduction to the public that the Canadian public is eager to recognize Canadian achievements, she will have done a great service. Many of us in Toronto are hopeful that our own Canadian National Exhibition directors have been taught a lesson long overdue.

As for the complaint that Marilyn showed "poor taste" or "discourtesy" in making the swim at the time she did, the answer to that is that contrary to what Pawlicki says, she was not trying for a record. She had already made a record at Atlantic City that was applauded by the public but ignored by the CNE directors. She was persuaded to swim as a protest against hiring foreigners in preference to Canadians, and the time to make that protest was right then, not at some uncertain time in the future.

As for Florence Chadwick, swimming is her business and any business man or woman can expect competition—and expect it at the time her opposition considers most favorable.

Men Have to Have Dignity

Ottawa Journal

A TORONTO STUDENT who visited West African colonies said he and his three companions were embarrassed when Africans asked what Canada was doing about South African segregation or what was being done for Indians in Canada.

They need not have been too embarrassed about South Africa, which is a self-governing country and is responsible for her own policies which others may or may not favor.

But when a Canadian is asked what is being done for our 150,000 native Indians he is apt to spar for time. Indians are not much in the average man's mind, but as a general Canadians feel they have had a better Indian policy than the United States chiefly because they did not shoot so many. Beyond that, the Toronto student would be one of the multitude in finding it hard to review Indian affairs.

PROGRESSIVE POLICY

Actually a good deal is being done under a more progressive policy. The Indian now is permitted to vote if he waives his exemption to taxation on personal property or if he is a war veteran. He can drink beer in a public place when the provincial authority approves. It has become less complicated for him to move out from under the Indian Act and be as any other Canadian. Health and educational services have been enlarged, and with children's allowances and other benefits, the Indian and his child stand straighter than they did.

This much has been achieved. But Ottawa tends to be smug and to say to the Indian, "You have health and education and rights, so please go away and be happy."

Men have to have dignity, and an Indian in a teepee can be as dignified as a Boston patrician in a palace. Dignity demands that Indians not only have the right but the opportunity to speak and we are attracted by the suggestion of Mr. John Diefenbaker that an Indian be appointed to the Senate to give his people a voice in Canadian affairs.

If the white man's education has not killed it, Indian oratory would be an asset to Parliament Hill. The Indians have a gift of allegory. Crowfoot in unrefined speech said the Mounted Police protected his people as the feathers protected a bird in winter.

Life, he said, was as the breath of a buffalo—in the cold or as a shadow running across the prairie grass to vanish, none knew where. A spark of imagery would enliven parliamentary debates and an Indian expounding his people's ambitions would be more attractive than an Indian parading in a feather bonnet as unfamiliar to him as to a Toronto banker.

Oh!

Terror turns on little things:

Hitting, senseless, pane and sill—
A bird enclosed, against its will;

cruel;
Or, deep at night, the doorbell rings—

'Sold'

Oh! for a land where honour is valued,
And the mind has a different mould:
Where the acme of every endeavour
Lies not in the one word "Sold."

Each person is "Sold" on his business.
The climate, his pleasure, his wife:
They even "sell" God to the sinner
When preaching the Christian life.

God has announced through the ages
To all who His Word receive
That the Spirit of God is GIVEN—not "sold."

To all who in Christ believe.

They Can't Afford to Serve

EARLIER this week a 17-year-old Oregon youth talked to the Pacific Northwest District Kiwanis convention on Key Clubs. They're groups sponsored by Kiwanis in high schools to promote the club's service ideals among adolescents.

Stott

The Oregon boy was applauded when he expressed the hope that Kiwanis Clubs would revive what appeared to be a waning interest in the student movement. I hope they will, but I wonder why Key Clubs already established should require this type of encouragement from their elders.

There is a good argument for the youngster's stand. The turnover in any high school organization is high. Boys—at least the bright ones who might be expected to take hold of Key Clubs—don't stay in high school indefinitely. New blood keeps surging in and it has to be taught the ropes.

Still, it seems to me, the existing Key Clubs and their officers should be able to train new personnel to succeed graduating students in a self-renewing procedure. Dependence on the older men of Kiwanis implies a desire for paternalism which is somewhat at variance to the ideals of self-reliance older people hope to see in boys.

Certainly some Kiwanis members should keep an eye on Key Clubs so they don't go off the rails. But isn't the main job of seeing that they survive and thrive one for the boys themselves?

FLUCTUATING INTEREST

That's a problem confronting all people who seek to encourage organized youth activity. Intensive campaigns drum up a reasonable amount of enthusiasm among young people for a certain time. Then, in a cyclical development, the interest seems to dwindle and a new campaign is required to stimulate activity again.

It could be, of course, that the modern community is over-organizing its youth efforts. Seized with what it considers to be a good idea, the older, well-meaning element may be inclined to set up an organization to which youthful members have to be coaxed and retained by the endowments of flattery and material advantage.

Perhaps that is a necessary development to compensate for the loss of young people with the ability to direct youthful activity along desirable lines—a condition not so obvious in prewar years.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Aid in Rheumatic Fever

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

As some persons know, one of the great scourges of the human race has been rheumatic fever. Commonly, in the past, it kept attacking children again and again until it had so seriously injured one or more of the heart valves that the child never could grow up into a strong man or woman. In many cases, death came later in the twenties or thirties from valvular heart disease or one of its complications.

Gradually conditions improved because of better hygiene, better food, better housing, better lighting and better care for the little sufferers. For long, about the only medicine that helped was sodium salicylate.

Dr. Alvarez

Eventually, bacteriologists came to see that the greatest enemy of these children was a certain type of streptococcus: a germ that grows in the form of a chain. Often it grows in the throat, and from there it, or the poison it makes, spreads to the heart muscle, the heart valves, and the joints. Naturally, the greatest danger to these children has always been that they would have more and more of the crippling infections. If only these could be stopped, many of the less injured children would grow up strong enough to live and work.

In the last year and a half Dr. G. H. Stollerman and J. H. Rusoff of Irvington, N.Y., have been reporting remarkable results obtained by giving the children about once a month a dose of a new type of penicillin, that has a prolonged action. Now I find confirmation of their findings by Drs. A. M. Diehl, T. R. Hamilton, I. C. Keeling, and Mr. J. S. May, of Kansas City. For 14 months they have kept the throats of all but a few of 96 affected children free from the dangerous streptococci. A great day appears to have dawned.

MIRACLE OF ACHIEVEMENT

Often, when I hear people saying that medical research and animal experiments have never been of any value to humanity, I wish I could show them some of the marvelous things that are being done today: miracles of healing which are never even heard of by laymen, and seldom even by the average physician.

For instance, I was just reading in the June 18 number of Science that yaws, a much-dreaded tropical disease which has deformed and maimed and killed with its awful ulcers millions of men and women and children, and which affects half of the people in some tropical islands, now has been almost wiped out in Haiti with the help of the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau, the World Health Organization, and the United Nations Children's Fund.

Yaws is a disease due to a spirochete closely resembling that which causes syphilis. In 1949 it was estimated that 1 in 3 of the 3,000,000 people in Haiti were incapacitated by the disease or suffering terribly from it. In 1950, teams of men started giving each invalid an injection of penicillin. This is sufficient to cure the disease or to render it no longer contagious. By the end of 1953, 2,623,141 persons had been treated at a cost of 30 cents a piece. Today, less than 1 per cent of the people still have the trouble in its contagious form!

Many millions still suffer from this awful curse in Africa, in Asia and in the islands of the Western Pacific, and it is hoped that soon they, too, can be treated.

DEATH FROM INJECTION

I keep hearing of persons who dropped dead after receiving an intravenous or even a subcutaneous (under the skin) injection of some drug. In some cases the patient might have saved himself from this tragedy if he had only told his physician that he was highly allergic and highly sensitive to the drug that was about to be given. Perhaps he should have told the physician that once when he had received an injection of the drug he had nearly died.

In the old days there were a certain number of allergic children each year who died suddenly after receiving an injection of some serum. Soon physicians learned that before giving such an injection, particularly to an allergic child, they should inject a drop of the substance into the skin to see how violent the reaction to it would be. One of my sons is alive today only because when the pediatrician wanted to give him an injection of anti-toxin serum, such as had been given a year before, he tried a drop first. This one drop produced so much shock and high fever that one can easily imagine what would have happened if the doctor had given the full dose!

So dangerous are intravenous injections that I never give medicine that way if I can possibly avoid it, and I usually can. Whenever I can give a medicine by mouth, I give it that way, because that way is safest.

LIBERTY BELLES AT HARMONY HALL

PC Ladies De-Tiff Tiffin And Will Serve Hees Tea

VANCOUVER (CP)—Progressive Conservative president George Hees will get a cup of tea after all.

Mr. Hees visits British Columbia next week but because of the feud between the national and provincial parties, the ladies here at first decided they would not hold any gatherings in his honor.

But Miss Lorraine Johnston, president of the Provincial Women's Association, had a change of heart Thursday and announced tiffin would be served after all.

And the location of the tea party? Harmony Hall in Vancouver.

Church Responsible For Rise of Reds?

Dr. Leslie Cooke Tells United Churchmen Decline of Congregations Has Stopped

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—Dr. Leslie E. Cooke, secretary of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, said Thursday "Marxist Communism wouldn't have arisen at all if the Christian church had been faithful and true to its gospel."

Dr. Cooke is attending the 16th general council of the United Church of Canada.

He said materialistic and scientific attitudes had made encroachments on religion just because Marx and Darwin attacked the Bible as wrong.

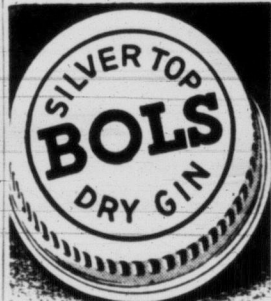

Church attendance declined, and between two world wars the Christian world moved "to the brink of moral and spiritual bankruptcy."

NOW CHANGING

That now was changing, he said. Materialism and atheism led Christians to view their environment with alarm, to seek out Christian revival for comfort and reassurance, and to gain new confidence in the Bible.

Dr. Cooke said the deeper feeling and more ardent search for biblical truth was reflected in the sharply arrested decline of congregations in Britain and elsewhere.

"You could put it this way," he said, "we Christians are gaining a new confidence in the fundamental reliability of our documents (the Bible)," and the uplift was wiping out the doldrums in which Christianity had wallowed for the last 30 years.

ALCOHOLISM 'CHEMICAL CONDITION'

Similar Disease To Diabetes?

LONDON (AP)—A leading British specialist on alcoholism says the man who drinks to excess is suffering from a "chemical condition" of his blood that can be treated chemically and only chemically.

Writing in the current issue of Medical World, a journal for general practitioners, Dr. J. Y. Dent described alcoholism as a blood disease "rather similar to diabetes." He said a chemical substance called apomorphine is safe and highly effective if properly administered.

Dent is editor of the Journal of Addiction.

NO MORAL LAPSE

Family doctors, the expert advised, should explain to the alcoholic that his addiction "is not a moral lapse nor due to lack of will power."

"In many ways, it is similar to diabetes. But no one tells the diabetic to 'pull his socks up' and stop passing sugar in his urine, or scoffs at him if he prefers his tea unsweetened. You must explain that he has taken drink as a medicine to treat a disease temporarily and that apomorphine treats this condition permanently, and unless he drinks again he will need no further treatment."

HOME TREATMENT

For less serious addicts—the kind who can stay away from the stuff for a week without getting delirium tremens—Dent prescribes three or four days' treatment at home.

Leave Insanity Plea Up to Judge—Dr. Gee

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new method of dealing with psychopaths charged with capital crime has been proposed by British Columbia's director of mental health.

Dr. A. M. Gee made the suggestion Wednesday to a royal commission inquiring into insanity as a defense in criminal cases. The commission is here in the course of a joint cross-Canada tour with a royal commission on criminal law relating to criminal sexual psychopaths.

His plan was to have the issue of mental illness determined by the judge alone in each case.

Dr. Gee suggested it should be mandatory for all persons charged with a capital offense to be examined by a panel of three trained psychiatrists and that their decision go directly to the judge.

Trial would proceed in spite of the mental condition of the accused. If the suspect were convicted and sentenced, the judge could send him to a mental institution, and if the patient were to recover there, the remainder of the sentence could be served in a penal institution.

PRESENTS BRIEF

Dr. Gee, who presented his brief on behalf of the B.C. provincial mental health service, said his plan would eliminate the situation where a person is committed prior to trial then, after recovering, having to face the courts.

Under his plan, Dr. Gee said, verdicts of "not guilty by reason of insanity" would be eliminated.

Nobody Has Sent Her an Elephant—Yet—Says Marilyn

TORONTO (CP)—Marilyn Bell, swamped with gifts from an admiring public since she swam Lake Ontario a week ago, Thursday night took a partial inventory of her presents.

She found she had acquired enough to: 1. furnish a house; 2. keep it warm; 3. keep it clean; 4. fill the kitchen cupboards; 5. fill the clothes closets; 6. overload the basement with the surplus.

In addition, for company, she had a collie dog, a budgerigar and two chinchillas.

The occasion for her stock-taking was to fulfill a request from LIFE magazine for a photograph of her gifts.

They included:

Hampers of apples, oranges and grapes, a movie camera with film and tripod, a blue English model convertible, two portable typewriters, silver tea service, continental bed with five mattresses, negligees, bath soap, wrist watch, handbag, vacuum cleaner, oil burner, perfume, pen and pencil set, dressing table, lamps, two rugs, wrought-iron table and four chairs, coffee table, radio, television set, record player, set of encyclopedias, glassware, plastic trays, upholstered chair, candelabra, end table, dressing gowns, dresses, two dozen cases of soft drinks, two dozen pounds of butter, several dozen pounds of bacon, a side of beef, two sets of matched luggage, hams, turkeys, coffee makers, dozens of pounds of tea and coffee, dozens of quarts of milk, six rolls of salami, four

Cease-Fire 'Necessary' De Castries Tells Newsmen

PARIS (Reuters)—Brig-Gen. Christian de Castries, commander of the French Union fortress of Dien Bien Phu, said Thursday that full-scale American air intervention probably could have changed the outcome of the long, bitter battle.

But U.S. air support could not have helped had it come only in the final days of the two-month siege, he added.

De Castries, who arrived in Paris from Saigon last week after four months in Communist prison camps, held his first press conference since his release.

The heroic French officer said a ceasefire had been "absolutely necessary" in Indo-China. He asserted that by the time the ceasefire was signed, and even before, it had become clear that France could not gain a military victory. But neither could the Vietnamese Communists, he added.

Ben Gurion Angered by Burns' Report

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—Former Israeli premier David Ben Gurion emerged from his retirement in the desert Thursday to blast Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, United Nations truce supervisor in Israel for his report to the UN secretary general Wednesday.

Gen. Burns recommended in the report that Israeli forces should not hold manoeuvres in the vicinity of the Israeli-Jordan border.

Ben Gurion, addressing a conference of his Israeli Labor party, declared that "it is none of his (Burns') business what we are doing within our country."

Ben Gurion, who still is a powerful influence in the present government despite his retirement from active political life to the Negev settlement of Sdeh Boker, told the conference:

"We must guard our sovereignty and reject any attempt to saddle us with trustees. It is not for the United Nations representative to express his view where the Israeli army should or should not hold its exercises ...

"One must educate the world that Israel's sovereignty is like everyone else's sovereignty—unquestionable."

NO DRIVING ABILITY TO IMPAIR—ACQUITTED

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver woman was acquitted Thursday of a charge of driving while her ability was impaired after her lawyer proved that she had no driving ability to impair.

Mrs. Imogene Lakey took over the driving of the family car for the first time in 14 years, last Friday, because she felt her husband had "one too many."

She was charged with driving while impaired after she backed the car into a parked vehicle. Defense counsel Hugo Ray suggested to the court that Mrs. Lakey may not have had "any ability to drive."

"In a case like this," said the attorney, "there has to be ability which can be impaired."

Arresting officers said the woman was unsteady on her feet and was "very talkative."

DEPTH, DISCERNMENT

British Pianist Thrills Audience

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

The intimate charm of a musical recital at the Arts Centre, Moss Street, was reflected and heightened by the artist's choice and arrangement of program and by his own thoughtful and immensely personal style, when Lloyd Powell, British pianist now living in Canada, presented a piano recital Thursday evening.

Those among his capacity audience, who had been present on a former occasion when Mr. Powell gave a lecture-recital, were confirmed in their opinion that here was a pianist of unusual depth and discernment.

It is true that many fine pianists are nevertheless superficial, in that their mastery is almost entirely of the keyboard. With Mr. Powell, a complete musicianship underlies his delightful virtuosity. A reflective, unhurried-tonal painting such as the Boyce-Bauer "Ye Sweet Retreats" reveals his intense preoccupation with the perfect phrase, the ideal mood.

From the pure, elegant classicism of a set of Handel variations, and the richly exuberant music of Bach's Italian Concerto, the pianist carried his audience into the world of French Impressionism, achieving with equal skill the crisp, sparkling brilliance and vivacity of the Ravel Sonatine, the spider-fine delicacy of Debussy's "Cloches a travers les Feuilles," the confidence and glinting humor of Poulenc.

A sensitive, musicianly touch, alluring rhythmic sense, and above all the ability to look deep and understandingly into the mind of the composer—these are attributes neither common nor easily within reach of a performer.

They are the qualities, however, which, quite apart from the shining virtuosity of the Liszt and the Chopin B flat minor sonata, will make this evening of music with Lloyd Powell linger long in the minds of those who heard him.

AUSTRALIAN INVENTION

New Microscopic Lens Will Aid 2-3% Vision

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—A new lens invented here by a senior lecturer in optometry at the New South Wales University of Technology is bringing effective sight to thousands of partially blind persons.

Joseph Lederer, the inventor, demonstrated the lens recently before the Victorian Optometrical Association.

Officials of the association said the lens represented one of the most impressive advances in optometry they had seen.

Several patients from Melbourne clinics whose vision was so poor that they had been regarded as hopeless cases had responded to a remarkable degree when fitted with Lederer lenses.

WIDE FIELD

Mr. Lederer said the lens resembled an ordinary spectacle glass, but was actually a microscopic lens with a wide, undistorted field.

Clinical tests had shown that persons with as little as from 2 to 3 per cent of normal sight could read print for the first time in their lives when wearing the new lens.

ALBERTA ENDS YEAR $22.2 MILLION AHEAD

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government ended the 1953-54 fiscal year with a net surplus of $22,614,060 after tacking up an all-time high income surplus of $105,013,714.

The public accounts issued Thursday by C. K. Huckle, provincial auditor, for the year ended March 31 showed revenue at a record high of $197,043,200, more than $42,000,000 greater than the previous year and $38,500,547 greater than Premier Manning had budgeted for as treasurer.

Major reason for the excess revenue over estimates was the sale of petroleum and natural gas leases.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVES

One occasionally encounters a suggestion that Kohaly should be the provincial leader, and not Hamilton. But at the moment this has not become an issue and there are no signs it will be one in the foreseeable future.

What about the prospects of Saskatchewan Tories going over to Social Credit, as has happened in British Columbia? There appears to be nothing like that in the Saskatchewan wind. One reason probably is that at least two-thirds of the Conservatives long since have gone over to the CCF, to the Liberals, and perhaps some to the Social Credit which still is an inconsequential political force in Saskatchewan.

Factor No More

Conservative fortunes have sunk to such a low ebb here that the party virtually has ceased to be a factor in provincial elections. In the 1952 provincial contest, only eight Conservative candidates ran out of a possible 53. They garnered a meagre 1.9 per cent of province's voters.

Federally, the party has fared a little better. In the 1953 federal election, candidates were entered in 15 of the 17 seats. They received 11.8 per cent of the electoral support, and one was elected—Mr. Diefenbaker in Prince Albert.

Indications are plentiful that, provincially at least, a substantial number of former Conservative voters now are CCF socialist party supporters. Throughout the province, former Conservatives are active CCF workers, and some of the CCF candidates are known to have been Conservatives in past days. Is this another example of the occasional political phenomenon of the two extremes coming together?

Peak, 25 Years Ago

Conservative fortunes hit their peak in Saskatchewan 25 years ago. They since have declined almost to the vanishing point.

In 1929, one out of every three Saskatchewan voters supported the Conservative ticket. In the provincial contest that year, 25 Conservatives under the leadership of the late Dr. J. T. M. Anderson won election. With the help of independents, Premier James G. Gardiner and his Liberals were booted out of office.

Four years later, in the 1934 election, the Gardiner forces returned the compliment. Only this time Conservative representation suffered complete annihilation. In 1938, the Conservatives succeeded in getting half a member into the legislature, the Conservative half of H. A. McDonald who won in Mooseomin as a Liberal-Progressive Conservative. But that half disappeared even before the next election when McDonald denounced any connection with the Conservative party and became an "unadulterated" Liberal. As such, he won re-election in 1952.

Last October, in the Souris-Estevan provincial by-election, the Conservatives received a bit of a lift. But it was less of a party feat than a personal triumph for Mr. Kohaly.

Tories Helped Grit

The by-election was necessitated by the accidental death of J. E. McCormick, Liberal, who had won the seat in 1948 and held it in the 1952 provincial election. McCormick had an arrangement with the Conservatives in the constituency to not oppose him. Some of the Conservatives had actively assisted in his campaigns.

When the Liberals met last fall to nominate their candidate for the by-election, Kohaly walked into the convention and captured the nomination, much to the surprise of outside Liberals. He did so without an undertaking to run as other than a straight Conservative candidate. Later, he obtained the Conservative nomination, although the Conservatives mustered a much smaller convention than the 350 at the Liberal one.

When the ballots were counted, Kohaly was the victor with a whopping 1,367 majority compared with McCormick's plurality of 157 votes over his CCF opponent in the 1952 general election.

May Need Liberals

Kohaly received a flamboyant billing when he took his seat in the legislature as the first Conservative to sit in the provincial legislature in two decades. He proceeded to give a good account of himself for his sound sense and forthrightness. He has contributed nothing but good to the Conservative cause, and has provided a rallying point which may redound to the benefit of the party. But, as far as the Conservatives are concerned, some of the edge was taken off his success by the fact that Liberal votes helped elect him and Liberal votes still may be necessary to keep him elected.

Federally, the Conservatives have fared little better. Eight Conservative members were elected in 1950. In the 1953 Conservative election debacle, only one survived, E. E. Perley.

Over-Use Blamed For Big Increase In Hospital Costs

CHICAGO (AP)—A Michigan doctor asserted Thursday that over-use of hospital facilities by insured patients has forced the cost of hospital insurance out of the reach of 25 per cent of American families.

Dr. Harry F. Becker, medical director of the Michigan-Hospital Service Blue Cross, told the annual convention of the American Hospital Association that "profound changes" will be needed to reduce unnecessary costs.

He said prepayment "has resulted in millions of unnecessary days of hospital bed occupancy and many millions of unnecessary procedures. This, perhaps more than any other factor, is presently pricing hospital care out of the pockets of the lower income segments of our population."

Preserve Okanagan BARTLETT PEARS NOW

in Qu'Appelle. In 1940, he was joined by J. G. Diefenbaker of Prince Albert, who bravely ventured into the former heart of the drouth area to capture Lake Centre seat. This was a signal personal triumph for Diefenbaker, and not a party victory. In 1945, Perley went down to defeat before the CCF, leaving Diefenbaker as the lone Conservative member from Saskatchewan.

With the redistribution for the 1953 federal election, which added Moose Jaw—a CCF stronghold—to Lake Centre, this seat obviously became untenable even for a Conservative candidate with Diefenbaker's fighting qualities. Diefenbaker returned to his own home ground, Prince Albert, where he had tasted the bitterness of defeat on several occasions. The "home boy who returned after achieving fame elsewhere" gathered sufficient non-Conservative support to win Prince Albert—and remain as the lone Tory from Saskatchewan in the federal parliament.

Gloomy Prospects

It's no secret that even in Lake Centre an arrangement existed between the Liberals and Conservatives, at least in the Arm River provincial constituency part of the seat, whereby many of the Liberals supported Diefenbaker federally in return for Conservative support for Herman Danielson, Liberal veteran member of the Legislature for Arm River. The members of both parties saw in this arrangement a way of thwarting the CCF bid for the federal and provincial seats.

What does the future hold for the Conservatives in Saskatchewan? The party's dismal record over the last quarter of a century leaves little ground for hope. Even its modest successes were achieved largely as personal and not party triumphs. They were won with assistance from Liberals at constituency levels, not always with the blessing of the Liberal hierarchy.

The president of one of the constituency Conservative associations in the province confided recently to this writer that in his opinion the party's only hope is to have more constituency arrangements worked out similar to that which sent Kohaly to the legislature. By leaning on the Liberals, he argued in effect, the party at least could be kept alive until the time comes, if it does, when the CCF socialists hit the kids.

(Saturday's article will review Conservative Party's situation in Manitoba.)

Pope Suffers Recurrence Of Hiccupping

CASTEL GANDOLFO (UP)—Pope Pius XII scheduled an audience for late today despite a recurrence of the illness which confined him to bed for three months last summer.

Authoritative Vatican sources said a Swiss specialist had been treating the pontiff for a week, but that the fact he had scheduled an audience indicated that his new indisposition was not serious.

The source said the hiccupping which were the forerunner of the 78-year-old pontiff's serious illness of last winter have returned.

The Vatican sources said there was "absolutely no cause for alarm" but there was obvious surprise in Vatican circles that the ailment had returned.

The Pope spoke to a crowd of 7,000 pilgrims at a general audience this afternoon from the balcony of his summer residence here, 15 miles south of Rome, and has not yet been forced to bed by the recurring ailment.

Brodie Twin Marks Third Birthday

FERRIS, Ill. (AP)—Rodney Dee Brodie celebrated his third birthday Thursday with members of his family.

Rodney, who was separated from his Siamese twin brother, Roger, in a history-making operation Dec. 17, 1952, had a cake and presents.

He has been at his parents' home since Aug. 9—the third visit with his family since the separation operation that was followed by the death of his brother.

TORIES TAKE 3 SEATS IN ONT. BY-ELECTIONS

TORONTO (CP)—Progressive Conservative government candidates won all three Ontario provincial by-elections Thursday. Incomplete returns indicated larger majorities than the party's candidates rolled up in winning the same seats in the 1951 provincial general election. James C. Auld, Brockville wholesaler, captured Leeds in eastern Ontario in a two-way fight with Mary Elizabeth Sheldon, a Liberal.

Mayor Gordon Laverne of Eastview, an Ottawa suburb, scored an emphatic victory against Liberal and CCF opponents in Russell where his party had only a 10-vote margin three years ago.

In Nipissing John M. Chaput won handily over Liberal, CCF and independent candidates. The elections were contested against the background of a legislative committee investigation of road contracts and administration. Charges of malpractice against contractors and highways department employees are pending in the courts.

The result gave the Progressive Conservatives 79 of the 90 seats in the legislature. The Liberals have six, CCF two, Liberal in 1953.

Labor one, Labor-Progressive one, and one is vacant.

Oil Seeps From Rocks in Frozen Wastes of North Magnetic Pole

BOSTON (AP)—There's oil in the frozen wastes around the meandering magnetic pole, a scientific expedition reported Thursday after its return from an exploratory voyage of more than 8,000 miles aboard the fishing vessel Monte Carlo.

Uranium Rush Reported in N.E. Washington Area

REPUBLIC, Wash. (AP)—Geiger counters were reported clicking out the news Friday of a uranium find in the Kettle Mountain range in northeast Washington.

Mrs. Lillian Tuve, who publishes the weekly Republic News-Miner, said 55 claims have been filed in the Sheridan Creek district of the range since the uranium rush began two weeks ago.

She said prospectors had been seeking the ore nearby for several months, but the fever really began to mount a fortnight ago when Geiger counters "started going crazy in this one area."

Only surface scraping have been sent in for analysis. No core samples have been taken. All claims are within the Colville National Forest.

Suspect Captured After 28 Years

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 55-year-old man is behind bars after dodging a murder indictment for 28 years. Sheriff Joel Hurley and seven other officers surprised Lexie Hankins in an outhouse in a pre-dawn raid Thursday. The prisoner had dropped from sight after his indictment following a fatal knifing at a dance in 1926.

Week's Program For St. John Ambulance Corps

St. John Ambulance Brigade activities next week follow:

Monday: B.C. Electric Ambulance Division 254 at 8 p.m.; Victoria Nursing Division 61, open meeting at Civil Defense Headquarters at 8 p.m.

Tuesday: Oak Bay Nursing Division 176 at 8 p.m.; Thursday: Denton Holmes Nursing Division 148 at 8 p.m.; St. John Ambulance Division 65 at 8 p.m.; Oak Bay Cadet Nursing Division 176 at 6:30 p.m.; St. John Ambulance Cadets at 7 p.m.

Friday: A.J. Dallan Nursing Division 210 at 8 p.m.; Denton Holmes Cadet Nursing Division 148 at 6:30.

Registration for senior first aid and home nursing will be open Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The site is 800 miles northwest of Mount Ararat, traditional resting place of Noah's Ark.

RAIN BLOCKS HARVEST

Cariboo Cattle Men Face Feed 'Disaster'

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—Cattlemen in British Columbia's Cariboo district face one of the worst winters in history this year, with only 20 per cent of the required hay for winter feed in stacks.

An observer indicated that if the best possible conditions prevail, "perhaps 60 per cent of the requirements could be stacked," before winter closes in.

Rain blocked the harvesting of the winter feed. Feed could be imported from grain-laden prairies, but stockmen said the wheat board regulations make it difficult to move feed on an economical basis.

Tibet's Dalai Lama Said Backing Reds

LONDON (AP)—Tibet's Dalai Lama appeared Thursday before a Peiping meeting and was quoted by the Chinese Communist radio as pledging loyalty to Mao Tse-tung as "our great and beloved leader."

SALESMEN HARD HIT BY BAKERY STRIKE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special meeting, set for Sunday, was called Thursday by the executive of the Bakery Salesmen's Union.

The meeting followed failure of the third attempt at mediation in the strike-lockout which has closed major bakeries in this area.

Directly concerned in the dispute are seven bakeries and Local 468 of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union, AFL-TLC.

An official statement by the salesmen's union said its members were losing business, wages and commission through no fault of their own.

"We are not only losing wages, but when we return to work, it will take us months to recover the pay and commission earned previous to the dispute."

The meeting will be to discuss the salesmen's position with regard to the tie-up.

DEMPSEY 'KNIGHTED' ARGENTINA STYLE

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo were knighted today by President Juan Peron of Argentina.

The fighters who put on the "Battle of the Century" 31 years ago on Sept. 14, 1923 in the Polo Grounds received the "Orden De Caballeros" or "Knight of Sport" award from Peron. He also presented medals to Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion of the world and Ismael Pace, Argentine boxing promoter. Dempsey and Moore also were presented gold watches engraved by Peron.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Apparently they've taken to throwing more mud pies down in Peterborough. And this is indeed a pity, as it is such a reversed custom, and down there especially there's so much of the stuff to go around.

Either that or Peterborough Lacrosse club president Bob Peirson never heard the story of the Kettle and the Pot.

And to top off the top dressing they haven't even played a game yet in what started out to be the Mann Cup lacrosse finals.

In case you came in late, or missed yesterday's issue, the aforementioned Mr. Peirson gently accused the Victoria Shamrocks of looking for sympathy to which they were not entitled. He implied the use of towels by the Rocks, in particular coach Red McMillan, was not serving the purpose for which the towel was intended.

He not only accused the Rocks, but he came right out and included all western clubs of the same practice, saying they "always do a lot of crying."

That's the mud slinging angle and it seems legal enough. But then Mr. Peirson had the absolute affrontery to insinuate in the next breath that Peterborough Petes were never guilty of such distasteful practices and cited two instances to prove it.

One, he said, was the Mann Cup final of last year when the Petes came to Victoria and beat Victoria four games to one.

"We didn't take our floor with us," he commented, "yet we beat Shamrocks on a strange floor."

The other item of note concerned the Dominion final of 1951 in Vancouver when the series was played on several different floors including one where the ice had been taken off shortly before the game.

"We didn't cry about that," he said.

Let's See if It Will Spatter

This is all very well for eastern consumption, but out here we like our mud tossed with an open hand. It splatters better.

For somehow Mr. Peirson, in his wisdom, has failed to recall one or two pertinent items.

First, there is the published fact that when the Shamrocks did defeat the Trailermen for their only victory of last year, the Petes were so incensed that they belched copious tears and threatened to default the series unless the referees of that particular game were changed for the next game.

Trailermen coach Bob Thorpe said at the time:

"If those two referees (Folka and Greenwood) are out there Monday, then we'll be on the TCA plane heading back to Peterborough."

History records it that Folka and Greenwood did not officiate the next contest and that the Petes stayed, and won.

If that wasn't "crying" then folks in Victoria would like to know what is.

CLA Could Look Into History, Too

Even from this distance, the Rocks appear to have every right to beef about the dirt floor at Miller Bowl. Because, under present conditions, it isn't a true test of ability let alone a decent site for a Canadian championship.

The CLA realized this several years ago when a similar occurrence took place—rain causing cancellation of Mann Cup games. That's why the final was moved into Maple Leaf Gardens.

And that's where the Rocks want it moved to again. Frankly, we don't blame them. For if Mr. Peirson recalls correctly, the Shamrocks, though humbled last year, took their defeat in excellent grace.

Secondly, there is also irrefutable evidence that in the 1951 series in Vancouver that the Petes (and the Combines) once almost refused to complete a game because of a different interpretation of the face-off rules. It took more than one meeting of CLA officials to iron out that squabble and it finally resulted in the face-off rule virtually being written anew into the rule book.

What we'd like to know is:

Which is the blackest now—the kettle or the pot?

NAVY TESTS VAMPIRES

City Grid Lead At Stake Saturday

The green and white colors of Navy will clash with the orange and black of Mayo Vampires Saturday at Macdonald Park to provide natural color to the gridiron variety.

Top billing in the Victoria Intermediate Canadian Football League will be the stake when Vampires and Navy quarrel in a league fixture starting at 2.

Both teams are currently holding down secondary positions behind league-leading Oak Bay Drakes, but a victory for Navy would move the tars past Drakes. A Vampire success would give them a deadlock with Oak Bay for the lead.

Drakes, idle in league action this week-end, are scheduled to play an exhibition game Saturday at Kamloops.

Navy will be without the services of quarterback and right-half Dave Martin for Saturday's game. Martin's right-half position will be filled by newcomer McIvor, recently returned from leave.

In addition to McIvor, Navy have added bench strength with eight new players.

Vampires' first-string centre Denny Louis is out with a knee injury sustained in practice. Jim Baldwin has returned and will see action in the game, as will Don Brownlee. Brownlee has been out of action since last season with a back injury suffered at work.

With the intermediate league currently holding the football spotlight, junior clubs are

It COULD Have Been Miller Bowl

By BILL WALKER

Really we weren't quite sure what it was all about.

There was to have been a lacrosse game scheduled Thursday night in Peterborough, but it got rained out early yesterday afternoon.

Then early today the picture above arrived in the mail.

Someone suggested that Times staffer Denny Boyd—feeling he had to do something to earn his keep since the Rocks weren't playing the lacrosse he went down to "cover"—slipped down to Miller Bowl to try and get a story.

And when he got there, this is what he saw—three frogs playing leap frog.

This could be for right now we can't figure what else frogs would play in Miller Bowl, or anybody else would play for that matter.

Credence was lent to this suggestion when, another staffer suddenly recalled that the natural habitat of frogs is water, or something with a watery base.

Miller Bowl answering both descriptions, everything seemed logical.

Then it was intimated that perhaps Boyd, realizing he had a beat—"A contest was taking place at the bowl"—immediately contacted a photographer and got proof positive for posterity.

(This he would have to do, that's for sure. For think of going back to the Rocks and telling them he saw a contest in Miller Bowl. The boys would laugh him right out of the lodge and into Clear Lake.)

The other suggestion that maybe this was the CLA's method of testing the resiliency of the floor, was thrown out as being too fantastic, as surely lacrosse players would make better scapegoats.

Well, that's the way it went. Nobody was quite sure what it was.

And we think you'll agree that we had a problem.

By this time the deadline was fast approaching and a decision had to be made.

Was this what Miller Bowl was really used for, or wasn't it?

We were just about to take a chance and say so when the truth came with the arrival of other pictures—all frogs.

Actually the scene was taken from a race in the "Leap-Frog Stakes" in England. The photo was by "Reville" and the frog leading is "Flip" with Flap and Flop hard on the tail Flap hasn't got.

Gee, and it would have made a swell yarn!

Leo's Got Good Reason To Call Giants' 'Game'

(By Associated Press)

Beaming with pride over his pennant-bound New York Giants, Leo Durocher today called his 1954 league leaders a greater club than his 1951 miracle team that came from way behind to defeat Brooklyn Dodgers with a never-to-be-forgotten finish.

The volatile little manager, gushing with goodwill, lauded his Giants as the "gamest team that ever walked out on a field" following what probably was their happiest day of the season.

Combining brilliant pitching, a tight defence and timely hitting, the Giants twice whipped Milwaukee Braves by 6-2 scores Thursday to sweep the three-game series and stretch their lead over Brooklyn to 4½ games. A 9-3 defeat inflicted by Cincinnati upon the Dodgers helped the Giants pick up a game and a half.

"Did you ever see such a club as this one?" boomed Leo in a voice loud enough to drown out the clubhouse din. "This is the gamest club I ever managed. And one of the best. Certainly better than the '51 Giants. It has more pitching, a deeper bench and an improved Willie Mays."

Oaks, Seals In PCL Final

Oakland will meet San Francisco in the final round of the Governor's Cup playoffs in the Pacific Coast Baseball League. The best-of-five series starts Friday night in Oakland.

The Oaks gained the finals by derauling the champion San Diego Padres 4-1 Tuesday night and 7-3 Wednesday night.

Thursday night the San Francisco Seals topped runner-up Hollywood 4-3 to clinch their semifinal series. The Stars beat San Francisco 5-3 Tuesday night but lost to the Seals 7-0 the next night.

San Francisco — 190 000 630-4 4 9
Hollywood — 900 000 120-3 7 7

WARWICK RETIRES
PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Bill Warwick, one of the famous trio of hockey brothers who paced Penticton V's to the Allan Cup last season, announced his retirement from the V's Thursday.

Lieut. Commander G. S. Connor will be coaching Venture. Lieut. Connor has several coaching victories to his credit.

Oak Bay Drakes, intermediates, will probably be missing Gordie Bennett for the remainder of the season. Bennett, who previously injured his knee in a lacrosse game, suffered a torn cartilage in the same knee in the game against Vampires last week.

However, Red White, who missed the last half of the game, will be back in action with the club this week at Kamloops. Wally Malcolm, injured in an exhibition game against Navy, is also expected to return soon.

The golfing bookkeeper from Thomasville, Ga., was paired with a young co-ed, Mickey Wright, of La Jolla, Calif., in the first afternoon match, while another California co-ed, Barbara Romack, of Sacramento, meets Mrs. Marjorie L. McMillen, Decatur, Ill., in the other semifinal.

Mrs. Maxon Berger, Buffalo, N.Y., eased some of Miss Faulk's worries Thursday by eliminating Miss Stewart, 1-up, in the fifth round, after which the defending champion returned the favor by methodically relegating Mrs. Berger to the sidelines, 2 and 1, in an afternoon quarter-final match.

Miss Wright, with a 2 and 1 morning victory over Mrs. Margarita Demagione, of Argentina, under her belt, knocked Miss Riley out of contention, 3 and 2, in another quarter-final match. Miss Stephens was eliminated earlier in the tournament.

In other quarter-final matches, Mrs. McMillen, five times champion of Illinois, defeated pipe-smoking Barbara Anne Bruning, Armonk, N.Y., 4 and 3, and Miss Romack, a 21-year-old Curtis Cup star, trounced Margaret (Wiff) Smith, Californian-born Mexican champion and USGA junior girls titlist, 7 and 5.

Irish May Come Home If Request Not Met

Time Key Factor In Appeal to Dominion Body

By DENNY BOYD

PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—The Victoria Shamrocks may be home sooner than expected.

Unless their requests regarding the arena facilities are met by the Canadian Lacrosse Association, Shamrocks plan to pack their bags and return to Victoria as fast as possible.

Feeling that the issue has reached a point of no return, the Shamrocks took the initiative today and attempted to reach an equitable agreement through western representatives.

Shamrock coach Red McMillan and manager Ralph Baker have passed on a statement to delegates from the Inter-city Lacrosse League.

This statement is to be passed on to the Canadian Lacrosse Association in the event that immediate action is not taken in regards to arena conditions.

Here is the statement:

"We will play the first game of the series in Peterborough's Miller Bowl because rain checks were issued when the game was rained out Wednesday night."

"We feel we have an obligation to the fans who attended that game and we will honor it. We are willing to play the series in any hard-surfaced arena in Ontario, indoor or outdoor, but we will forfeit the series before we will play any more than one game under the present conditions in Miller Bowl."

"It is too uncertain with the prevailing weather. The series could drag out over our returning deadline and we run the risk of injuries playing on the slippery floor."

The Shamrocks spent Thursday watching the skies but the game was called off shortly after lunch time, in spite of protests from the Peterborough executive. An early-morning thunder and rainstorm washed out the hopes of having the floor dried out in time for the game.

ATTEMPTS FAILED

Workmen poured gasoline on the damp dirt and ignited it in an effort to dry the ground out and then dumped new soil on top. However, the Mann Cup committee called the game off. CLA secretary Gene Dopp refused to take the word of the series committee and attempted to have their decision reversed. However, he was voted down and the original decision held.

The game is scheduled again tonight with the second game scheduled Saturday night. But whether that second game will be played depends on the answer given the Shamrocks by the CLA.

ROCKS 'FED UP'

Manager Baker said: "Before we came here, we were told that Miller Bowl would have an asphalt surface. It is an utter disgrace to attempt to play a Mann Cup championship in a rickety, muddy place like Miller Bowl. We are fed up with the way things are being handled back here."

"On Wednesday night, we're rained out. The lights in our dressing room blew out twice. There is no time clock visible and the public address system did not work. We have no idea how many games will be rained out and how long we will have to stay here. Our players have to get back to Victoria to their jobs."

The ball is now in the hands of the executive. The future of the series depends on which way they run.

BAYS SQUARE BOXLA FINALS WITH CAFEMEN

Oak Bay evened their best-of-three city juvenile B lacrosse championship series with Strathcona Cafe at one game apiece Thursday night by defeating Cafemen, 4-2, at Stevenson Park.

Don McIntosh paced the winners attack with two goals, while Jack Showers and Bob Harris added singletons. Wayne Hetherington scored both goals for the losers.

Third and deciding game of the series is scheduled for Monday night at 6 at Stevenson Park.

WEATHER 'MOSTLY FAIR'

Rocky, Ezzard Try Again Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Yes, folks, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles still are waiting around to fight for the title. The 15-rounder, twice postponed, is scheduled for Yankee Stadium at 8 p.m., PDT, tonight.

Note, it says scheduled. Rain washed out the return bout Wednesday and Thursday nights to equal the heavy-weight championship postponement record set in 1945 by Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott.

The game weather man, sticking his chin out again, says it will be "mostly fair" this afternoon and tonight. He predicted Wednesday that it would rain Thursday, let up in mid-afternoon and be cloudy Thursday night. Promoter Jim Norris couldn't wait. The morning rains wet all the seats and everything else in the park, so he called off the fight at noon.

For the record, the rain did stop Thursday afternoon. But it started drizzling again at 7 p.m., let up shortly after, and then, 10 minutes before the original 10.30 p.m. starting time, began again.

If another postponement is forced, the rain-jinxed scrap will be rescheduled for Saturday night at 10 p.m. (CDT). Oh yes, rain is forecast for Saturday. Beyond Saturday, nobody knows.

Rosewall Gains Semis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defending champion Ken Rosewall of Australia Thursday won his way into the men's singles semi-finals of the Pacific southeast tennis tournament by defeating Hamilton Richardson of New Orleans, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2. Rosewall will play former U.S. champion Tony Trabert Saturday. The husky Trabert flashed his best form of the tournament Thursday in ousting Kosei Kamo, the champion of Japan, 6-3, 6-0, 6-1.

Running and jumping were not combined into one hurdling event until the Oxford-Cambridge sports meet of 1864.

RACING OFFICIALS AGREE TO DISAGREE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Top officials in the lower mainland racing circuit were involved in a dispute Thursday, and a special meeting of the Ascot Jockey Club was called for Friday in an effort to settle the issue.

Principals in the battle were starter Clay Puett and Lohead, president of the B.C. division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association.

Puett was sporting a cut lip which he said could be credited to Lohead, who claimed that his horse, Sir Achtol, had been "chained" while being loaded into the starting gate before the eighth race.

Officials declined to comment on the issue.

SOME SEASONS LENGTHENED

Duck Population Reported Plentiful

With ducks plentiful in many sections of Canada this year, the duck-hunting season has been lengthened in some areas.

Big limits in most provinces average eight or nine, with possession limits between 15 and 30. About 400,000 hunters are expected to take to the marshes.

Farmers in Manitoba and residents in Nova Scotia need no licence to hunt ducks, but other provinces charge from $2 to $35, with the highest rates for hunters from outside Canada.

LATE IN B.C.

In British Columbia, the season for the western area is Oct. 16 to Jan. 16; eastern area, Sept. 1 to Oct. 31, and other sections, Sept. 15 to Dec. 13.

Cold weather last spring caused a late hatch and birds are just arriving. The province, however, is expected to have an average supply, with pintail, widgeon and mallard the most common types. The bag limit is 10, including one wood duck, and possession limit depends on the number of days out.

A good season is forecast for Alberta with mallards expected to be the most prevalent. Bag limit is eight daily, with possession limit of 32. About 50,000 hunters turned out last year, getting an average bag of 14.

Because of crop damage by mallards and pintails, Alberta issued a special permit to shoot these ducks from Sept. 7 to 17, prior to the general season running from Sept. 18 to Dec. 4. The special permit area covered all crop lands in the Grande Prairie and Peace River regions, and was the first ever issued for the Peace River Block.

In Saskatchewan, the open season for the north is Sept. 13 to Nov. 29, and for the south Sept. 18 to Dec. 17. Ducks are plentiful and officials are expecting heavy flights southward. Daily limit is 10 and possession limit 40, of which 20 must be mallard. One wood duck is allowed.

RECORD FOR MANITOBA

A record number of licences were issued in Manitoba last year—24,716—but officials say the total may be even higher this season. The bag is 10 a day, possession 30.

The open season in Manitoba started Sept. 1 north of the 57th parallel, running to Oct. 30. Between parallels 57 and 53, the season runs from Sept. 16 to Nov. 20. South of 53, with the exception of the Delta waterfowl control area, it's from Sept. 24 to Nov. 27; in Delta area Oct. 8 to Nov. 27.

Season dates in Ontario are also divided by districts: Northern district Sept. 15 to Dec. 15 (last year the season ended Nov. 13); central district Sept. 18 to Dec. 15; southern area Oct. 2 to Dec. 15. The bag limit is eight, possession 16.

Soccer Opener Saturday

City Features Youthful Squad

Youth will hold the centre stage Saturday at Royal Athletic Park when Victoria City makes its Coast Soccer League debut against St. Andrews.

City will field a starting line-up of youth and speed, with the club average being 21 years. Three starters will be 18-year-olds, while the eldest will be 27. Pete Winter will be in goal for City and will be given protection from the fullback positions by veteran Bill Hope and rookie Don Glass.

John Pickburn, formerly of New Westminster Royals and United, will centre the half line with Dick McLaren at left half and Dave Wakelyn at right.

Harry Carrothers, a half for Victoria United last season, will move up to the centre forward berth, being flanked by George Wright and Cedric Robb on the right and Bob Clarke and Tim Walker on the left.

Spare for City will be Chummy Crabbe, Bert Ingram, Dave Mello and Bill McMillan. McMillan has injured his leg and it is doubtful if he will see any action. Crabbe is up with United on a three-game trial basis in agreement with Victoria West of the Victoria and District Football League.

SCOTS NAME CLUB

St. Andrews' manager Bill Hyslop will have Paul Lisowsky in goal with Frank Noga and Jack Steele as backs, George Bark, Dave Guthrie and Dave McGruer will be on the half line.

Jack Swan will pivot from the centre forward berth for Claude Homen and Bill Logan on the right and Doug Jespersen and Peter Morgan on the right.

Game time is 2:30.

Little League Officials Named

Little League baseball officials for next season were elected in both the American and National League sections Thursday night.

Gordy Smith was named president of the National League, while Dick Pollock will hold a similar position in the American League.

Other National League officers are: Chuck Copeland, vice-president; Pat Newell, secretary; Grant Paterson, treasurer; Bob Holmes, player agent; Vic Hemming, director; Max Bloomfield, publicity director, and Don Butt, league scorer.

American League officers are: Ron Harlow, vice-president; Nora Graham, secretary; Mrs. A. Worboys, treasurer; S. Worboys, player agent, and Wally Wilson, league scorer.

GET YOUR BETS DOWN, FELLAS

Golf as Easy by Night

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—They laughed when Red Anderson boasted that he could shoot golf in the black of the night.

They clammed up when Anderson brought in his score card.

This was night golf for the real fanatic—no floodlights, no lanterns. Even the flashlights were blacked out, except to identify Anderson's ball.

Red, a 40-year-old salesman, was chatting with the boys at the clubhouse. It was 9:30 p.m. Someone said it was a pity there were no lights, "such a beautiful night."

"What d'ya mean, lights?" exclaimed Anderson. "You don't need lights to play golf at night."

Ten minutes later the bets were down and Anderson was at the first tee, driver in hand.

The bet was that Anderson couldn't shoot the first two holes in 10 strokes.

Rules were sternly invoked. A lost ball in the dark cost stroke and distance. The only light allowed was the flashlight for identifying the ball. Red had to find his own ball in the dark, hit it in the dark and then find it again.

Brookview's first hole is par four, the second par three. Anderson shot a five and four and won the bet.

The skeptics descended on him, demanding that he play the first, 17th par three and 18th par four dogleg. Anderson peered shrewdly at his gallery and bet he could make it in 16 strokes. He shot 5-4-5 and won again.

Anderson's theory? "You've got to have the feel of where the ball is going. You can hit the ball just as well at night as in the daylight."

"But a hooker or slicer is dead."

Four of the west's five football clubs reach the halfway mark of their 16-game schedule this week-end and the shape of things to come points to a tremendous three-way fight for first place.

The situation in the east's Big Four race is different. There it appears, with the fifth encounter of the 14-game schedule for each club coming up, that Montreal Alouettes are going to run away with first place.

Three points separate the first three in the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union. Saskatchewan Roughriders led the second-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers by two points and Calgary Stampeders by three. The week-end games can send the surprising Roughriders way out in front or make the battle even closer.

The Roughriders and Blue Bombers meet Saturday and Monday in a home-and-home series with the first game at Regina.

DUE FOR UPSET?

The Stampeders tangle with British Columbia Lions at Vancouver in the other Saturday game in the west and then on Monday Edmonton Eskimos move into the west coast city to meet the Lions. The Lions, winless in six games, have been improving in their last couple of games and are due to come up with an upset against any club that thinks they'll be push-overs.

In the Big Four Montreal has had it all its own way so far with four wins in as many starts. But the battle for second place could be torrid among Toronto Argonauts, Hamilton

Tiger-Cats and Ottawa Rough Riders.

The Tiger-Cats clash with Montreal at Hamilton Saturday while Toronto goes against the Rough Riders in Ottawa in the game that NBC will telecast in the United States. A win for Hamilton and Ottawa will create a three-way tie for second place.

Duncan Association Disputes Park Plans

Development of 14-Acre Grounds as Park, Sports Centre, Likely Group Objective

DUNCAN—The question of whether the 14-acre grounds of the Community Centre Association will be developed as a sports centre, park, or combination of both, was ordered tabled for a month by association directors meeting Wednesday.

Storekeeper Hurt at Work On Aircraft

CAMPBELL RIVER—Jack Summers, 50, storekeeper at Mansons Landing on Cortez Island, is confined to Lourdes Hospital for treatment of injuries received Thursday.

He was fueling a Queen Charlotte Airlines Norseman at the gas station he runs in conjunction with his store when he slipped and fell across a strut.

He was made comfortable on the wharf while Dr. P. J. Moloney was flown to the scene by Wally Wiggins of B.C. Airlines.

Summers was operated on Thursday evening. Members of Campbell River Volunteer Fire Department acted as donors for blood transfusions.

Fair Results Check Shows Tie for Cup

LUTTON—A recount of scoring in the annual fall fair of Methosin Farmers' Institute September 11, revealed that points for the highest number of firsts in the women's section were divided between Mrs. D. Flatman and Mrs. H. B. Petersen.

As a result, they will share the B.C. Electric trophy for the next year. Each will hold the cup for six months.

Winners in the 6-10 year class were Thelagh Hall and Dennis Powell. Michael Johnson, Mel Middleton, and Doug Chidlow tied for third place.

Chemainus Kin Name Chairmen Of Committees

CHEMAINUS—Chemainus Kinsmen held its first meeting of the fall term at the Horse-shoe Bay Inn with 20 members present.

Committee chairmen appointed for the year by president Dave Murray are: Inter club, Nick Maika; polo, Jim Syme; membership, Earl McColl; sunshine, A. Bonde; bulletin, Al Humphreys; convention, Tom Greenhorn.

Past-president Jim Syme announced that the annual installation of officers would take place Oct. 2 in the Canadian Legion hall. Governor Robbie Robinson of Ladysmith will be on hand to install the new executive and a number of district dignitaries, including Reeve C. A. P. Murison, have been invited to attend.

The traveling gavel was brought to the Chemainus club earlier this year, and has to be taken to a mainland club. The president suggested that the local club take it to the North Vancouver Kinsmen Club. About 10 members signified their intentions of making the trip to the mainland to transport the gavel.

The club will hold its annual turkey shoot prior to Thanksgiving. The shoot will be held on Oct. 3.

Show Will Help Park Development

DUNCAN—Junior Chamber of Commerce will enter show business tonight and Saturday with the presentation of Ormond McGill, magician and hypnotist, in the Cowichan Arena to raise funds for a little league ball park.

Since the Jaycee movement was founded here three years ago it has grown considerably in regard to membership and size of projects undertaken. This will be its first sponsorship of a show.

Jaycees will stage a parade through the city Saturday, with many local youth organizations taking part, as part of the baseball park drive.

Island Hospitals Given Repair Grants

Health Minister Eric Martin announced Thursday grants-in-aid have been approved for renovations and repairs at Victoria Royal Jubilee Hospital and Chemainus General Hospital.

Royal Jubilee will receive $578.98 and Chemainus $145, representing one-third of the total cost. Other hospitals in the province received grants totaling $38,943.

Caged Bird Section New Feature At Annual Fall Fair in Nanaimo

NANAIMO—With all the pomp of a full-scale pageant, Mayor George Muir officially opened the Nanaimo Fall Fair Thursday night to an enthusiastic crowd.

According to old-timers, this year's show is "the best yet."

Popular new feature is the cage bird display which drew 85 entries, 40 from Nanaimo and district and 20 each from Victoria and Vancouver fancies. Top award for best bird in the show was won by Mrs. W. H. Garth of Parksville, with her Gouldian finch.

W. J. Snider, Victoria, took two first ribbons with light green birds and second with blue "budgie." Special awards went to Al Bowker's opaline and a cobalt bird. Special for Azetbrae finch was taken by W. J. Kleaman of Parksville. Roy M. Sharp, Vancouver, also took a special for his opaline budgie.

Harold E. Smith, Wellington fancies, captured two bests in show with his "budgie" and native birds, pine siskins.

In spite of an unfavorable season for fruits and vegetables, the fair brought in a startling array of top-quality produce. As usual, S. Dines brought in some giant potatoes from his Pleasant Valley farm. Eighteen of the great tubers weighed 23 pounds.

One of the most popular features was the second international photographic show which drew 799 entries, most of which were of top-flight quality.

The big show opened at 2 p.m. today, and on Saturday will be open all day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Cattle show was held today at Beban Park where a gymkhana will be held Saturday afternoon, starting at 1:30.

Talent playdowns will be at the Arena Saturday morning.

Fisherman Found Dead

CAMPBELL RIVER—An inquiry was scheduled for today into the death of Paul Treichel, whose body was found Thursday in his gillnet boat at Bute Inlet.

The gillnet was still in the water and it is understood the man suffered a heart attack. RCMP journeyed to the scene by boat and aircraft.

He is survived by his wife on Lulu Island.

Chemainus Clubs Plan to Build Tennis Courts

CHEMAINUS—The Rotary Club and the Golf Club are sharing a project calling for the construction of two asphalt tennis courts here.

Three members of the Rotary Club, Art Bird, Jack Dowling and Martin Van Cooten are working together with Ed Craig of the Golf Club on the project. The group has suggested that the courts be built on property owned by the Golf Club.

Mr. Bird said that it was the intention of the Rotary Club, working with the Golf Club, to pick out a suitable site for the courts and then raise the money necessary to build and equip them.

"When the courts are built and ready for operation, it would be our intention to turn them over to the community," he said.

He suggested that a tennis association could be formed to look after the courts and arrange play.

The group will meet next week to discuss possible locations for the courts. He said that they hoped to have the courts ready for use next summer.

TORONTO WOMAN NAMED 'TYEE MAN OF THE YEAR'

CAMPBELL RIVER—With official closing of the Tyee fishing season here Wednesday, Mrs. Patrick Ballentine, Toronto, was declared "Tyee Man of 1954" for landing a 60½-pound fish, largest of the season.

With her husband, son of the late Blake Ballentine of Vancouver, she had a successful fishing trip here some weeks ago. Both she and her husband caught near-record salmon at the time.

Swim Challenge Accepted By Chemainus Man

Channel Race Planned

CHEMAINUS—Community Centre sports director, Alan Goldie, has accepted the challenge of a Victoria girl to swim from Kuper Island to Chemainus next summer.

Mr. Goldie, who gained considerable fame through a recent unsuccessful attempt to complete the swim, has accepted the challenge of Joan Biddle, 19, of Victoria.

Miss Biddle almost completed a swim from Yellow Point to Chemainus last month, remaining in the water for four hours and 40 minutes. She covered six miles in her attempt.

Whether or not the swim from Kuper Island to Chemainus will be a race or a matter of seeing who can complete the distance is not yet known. "This is something we'll have to work out before next summer," says Alan, who invites anyone else interested to accept the challenge.

MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. entered a scale model demonstration of strip logging and tree farming in the non-commercial exhibit. Other exhibitors were the Pacific Biological Station with a display of fish, B.C. Power Commission, Post Office, Sea Cadets, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, and Nanaimo and District Credit Union.

Among judges were W. S. Duff and Alan Littler, Victoria; A. W. Bradfield, Mrs. H. Tuck, and Mrs. R. Dolling, all of Nanaimo.

GRAVITY WINS BATTLE AGAINST ANCIENT OAK

An old landmark at Cordova Bay has succumbed to old age.

A scrub oak, long familiar to Cordova visitors because of its precarious perch above the beach, crashed to the ground at 2.15 this morning.

Scheduled to be cut down following the appearance of cracks in the trunk last week, the tree woke residents of the area as it fell of its own accord, smashing a picnic table on the beach.

The tree's trunk was about three and a half feet thick and the branches hung out over the beach and a path leading to the beach, forming an arch over the trail.

Langford '50-60 Up' Club Holds First Social Meeting

LANGFORD—Members of the "50-60 Up" Club here enjoyed their first social meeting Wednesday at St. Matthew's Hall when 22 men and women of the district attended.

Although the club has been in the process of organizing for several months, under the instigation of Mrs. E. B. Busst, the meeting marked the first actual gathering.

It is hoped to have handicapped persons attend social meetings in future. Mrs. Margaret Miller, president, asked that members or residents able to provide transportation notify her at 8-1510. Present plans call for a social gathering every two weeks.

G. M. Glover, organist, accompanied singing. Mrs. Oscar Monahan, vice-president, and Mrs. Busst, secretary, assisted Mrs. Miller in welcoming guests.

Invited guests were W. T. Sims, H. Mudgeley, Mrs. P. Watt, Mrs. M. West, Mrs. C. W. Burbury, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sawyer, Oscar Monahan, Mrs. J. Ellis, Mrs. J. E. MacDonald, Mrs. Ruth Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. Payne, Mrs. G. M. Glover and Mrs. M. Buckley.

A REWARD

It was a very long two hours, hot as a stokehold, dry as a bone. But the drive down to Halifax, a hundred miles of wooded country, lakes and green fields, made up for most of it.

I hadn't been to Halifax since 1913, when I arrived there on a curious errand. I had to hand over my ship, a frigate called Ettrick, to the Royal Canadian Navy. She was a good ship, and I was sorry to part with her. When the new captain arrived on board, we had a long session in my cabin, going over the details, and reminiscing. Finally he gave me a receipt, which I still have. It read, simply: "Received one frigate."

I must confess that I've never done business on that scale, either before or since.

Halifax, capital of Nova Scotia, is a thriving port with miles of quays on both sides of the river. When Montreal and Quebec are out of commission during the winter, it takes the weight of eastern seaborne trade. It has had a turbulent history, with Champlain, General Wolfe, and Confederate blockade-runners during the civil war, all contributing. It played a vital naval role in both world wars. It lost 1,800 of its citizens in the tragic explosion of 1917. It also has the proud distinction of being the home of the first printing-press in Canada, and the first newspaper, the Halifax Gazette.

You see it best from the Citadel, built a century ago, which dominates the city and commands a superb view of the harbor. I used this vantage-point twice, once at night, once in mid-morning. The night scene is a wonderful blend of twinkling lights, moving traffic, enormous shadows, and glimpses of dark water. By day, the shape of the harbor and the town is laid out in front of you like a huge relief-map, almost within touching distance.

They are building a new bridge across the harbor to Dartmouth. It's just taking shape—two colossal steel towers linked by a sagging tracery of girders overhead. I was told a curious story about this bridge; whether true or false I don't know—the man who told it to me used the phrase: "It's as true as I'm standing on this side-walk." He was swaying slightly, and standing in the roadway.

BRIDGES "CURSED"

But tradition apparently says that hundreds of years ago, an old Indian (speaking in English rhyming couplets) laid a curse on the white man's bridge. Three would be built, he said, and three would be destroyed—the first in storm, the second in silence, the third in death.

It is a fact that the first bridge was blown down by a gale, and the second collapsed without warning. This is the third.

I'm only repeating what this man said this old Indian said.

The bridge itself looked as tough as Rockefeller Centre.

Under the new reserve army setup to be instituted here, the medical corps is to be reorganized along similar lines to that of the service corps and for the same reasons.

ELASTIC PLAN

The order continues: "The establishments will not be those of field units but designed to train the various personnel found in the corps and from which field units can be formed when required. The new units will be organized in most cases in the same locations as existing units and will absorb personnel of those units."

"This system has been in effect for both the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals and the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers for several years and has been found to be satisfactory from a training point of view, as well as reducing the overhead involved in the administering of large numbers of small units."

We have been asked many times what the matching ranks are in each of the three services. We found the answer in the last annual report of the departmental of national defense presented to Parliament, which is as follows:

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Next week is National Dog Week. But before Judy's Boots and all other dogs get too puffed up with pride over having a week all their own, let them read the following letter-jerk by Arnold Dibble, United Press staff correspondent in New York City.

Mr. Dibble, if you please:

On Armistice Day, 1950, there was born unheralded even to this day in a small town in New Jersey a genuine, grade-A, pedigree mongrel pup.

His mother was a wayward, over-the-face poodle by the name of "Candy." The father was suspected to be a yapping, wire-haired terrier by the name of "Skipper."

Next week being National Dog Week, this is the story of the unheralded pup who was adopted by a soft-headed family and named "Trouble" by the girl-child who became the dog's alleged keeper.

These are the facts, though not all of them.

When "Trouble" was two weeks old he was brought to his adopted home. He cried all night. The best advice was to get a hot water bottle and an alarm clock.

The hot water bottle would simulate his mother's warmth; the clock his mother's heart beat.

This little trick cost nearly five bucks. He chewed a hole in the hot water bottle and nearly drowned. He was not impressed by the clock. He still sleeps with girl-child and to date he has chewed holes in at least three blankets. Estimated cost: $50.

At six months, or less, he playfully snapped at a small boy running on the sidewalk. But he either was overly enthusiastic or near-sighted and he drew blood, in addition to ripping a pair of jeans.

The tests, doctors, and pants buying that followed cost $75.

A year later he was so much improved that it was decided he was well enough trained to accompany the family on a vacation to Vermont. (Besides, there wasn't a neighbor, good friend though he was, who wouldn't blanch at the thought of taking him and by now he had cost so much a kennel was out of the question.)

While in Vermont, out in the real country where he could roam, he jumped into a car and chewed up a $75 overcoat.

Then he got the mange. Cost: $25. (The family's medical bills during the same summer amounted to three bucks.)

Then he got loose without a license and spent the night at the pound. Fines and rent came to $12.

Today he is four, but the girl-child claims he really is 28 because each day's year, she says, equals seven years in human beings. But, four or 28, he still chews up boots, shoes, rugs anything left loose; he still barks at the mailman and still jumps up on anything moving.

The name has been shortened to "Trub" and in his maturity he looks somewhat like a cross between a wire-haired poodle and a caricature of the Republican elephant. The girl-child still has to be coaxed to take him for a walk, but—none of you has enough money to buy him.

SHIPYARDS REJECT PAY DEMAND

Boost 'Impossible' Negotiators Told

Victoria and Vancouver shipyards here flatly rejected wage and working condition demands made by union representatives in the opening rounds of contract negotiations, it was learned here today.

Sixteen locals of AFL and CIO unions are negotiating for master Victoria-Vancouver contracts with Yarrow and VMD shipyards here and Burrard and Pacific Drydocks in Vancouver. Union officials report the company representatives said the shipyards are not prepared to pay increased wages this year.

"They appear to want to sign last year's contracts as is," said one union official.

PACT ENDS OCT. 15

There are indications that both sides want to complete negotiations as soon as possible. Past negotiations have sometimes stretched many months. "As yet the shipyards have not made any proposal. Unions are seeking pay increases generally, and a 'tool differential' is sought by mechanics."

Present contracts expire Oct. 15. Meetings will resume next week.

Langford Man Faces Charge Of Retaining

Seven charges of retaining over $1,000 in stolen goods were read against Arthur Lloyd Williams, Langford, about 30, in city police court today. He pleaded guilty to each.

Police said items found in his home at 41 Dunford Road had been taken from two Colwood Saanich and five Colwood area homes since 1952.

An earlier charge of breaking, entering and theft which was laid by Central Saanich police August 28 has been dropped.

SPOTTED OWN COAT

Williams, formerly a truck driver for the Dominion government here, was arrested after a sharp-eyed victim spied a woman on a Victoria Street wearing a coat which had been stolen from her home at Island View Beach July 20.

Mrs. H. A. Noakes recognized her coat and started city detectives on investigations which grew in proportions. Colwood RCMP and Central Saanich police were involved.

The courtroom had some of the appearance of a second-hand store today, as officers of the three forces piled evidence on tables and on the floor.

Included were such items as a chest of drawers, a radio, two blankets, a foot mixer, a pop-up toaster, an electric kettle, a pair of shoes, two coal oil lamps, a vacuum cleaner, a haversack and a coin changer.

There were numerous towels, and also fishing equipment valued at over $200.

LOOT IDENTIFIED

Colwood RCMP Corporal Joseph Shepherd told the court that the vacuum cleaner was identified as one stolen from the home of George Edward Hall at Langford Lake, in 1952.

Other items had disappeared since that time from homes owned by Earl Gillespie, Sooke; H. A. Noakes, Central Saanich; Simon Johnston, Colwood; Ernest H. Sewell, Jacklin Road; William Dunlop, Colwood, and Gavin Chisholm's summer home in the Highlands.

Chief Fred Brownlee of the Central Saanich force, said Noakes' home lost an electric shaver, a clock radio, clothing, a pen and pencil set and other items.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded the accused for sentence to Tuesday for a probation officer's report. Defense counsel, D. G. Sloan, asked the court to also ask for a psychiatrist's report.

Careless Drivers Fined in Saanich

Driving at 70 miles per hour in 30 and 40-mile zones brought a careless driving charge against Terrance Nash Pye, 554 Inverness. He was fined $35.

Bert Jensen, 1814 Belmont, paid the same for a careless driving charge resulting from weaving and driving on the left side of the road.

LIEUT. (S) CARL HORTIE

LIEUT. V. H. SKINNER

TWO ESQUIMALT NAVAL OFFICERS today completed courses at the U.S. Navy's Instructors' School at San Diego, Calif. They are Lieut. (S) Carl Hortie and Lieut. Victor H. Skinner. Lieut. Hortie is staff officer stores training at the Esquimalt base. Both will return to duties at HMCS Naden. (U.S. Navy Photos.)

LOST $100 STRANDS MONTREAL VISITOR HERE

There's a young woman visitor here from 3,000 miles away who will be stranded unless she finds her purse.

Miss Nora Alleen, from Quebec City, staying at the Dominion Hotel, lost her green plastic purse while walking from the Empress Hotel along Government and up Yates to the Dominion.

It contained $100.

If the finder doesn't return the money Miss Alleen will be really up against it—a long, long way from home.

Houses To Be Built On City's Last Open Area

Former Armory Site Subdivision Will Provide Homes for 50 Families

One of the last open areas within the city limits is to be subdivided as a housing development.

Paul H. McClung, Vancouver real estate man, intends to build 50 homes on property he owns at the west end of Haultain. The area is bounded by Haultain, Empire, Bay and Cedar Hill.

Commonwealth Construction Co., Ltd., which will build the homes, has already commenced grading of the area. Graders and scrapers began work Monday.

The subdivision plan, approved by the engineering department at City Hall, calls for the building of a U-shaped road which would be entered off Haultain. Entrances would be opposite where Chambers Street and Mount Stephen Avenue now join Haultain.

It is understood the development will make provision for a children's playground area, measuring about 150 feet square.

WAS ARMOUR SITE

The property was owned by the city until 1947 when it was purchased by the Department of National Defense, which at the time had plans for building an air force armory there. The defense department gave up that idea when it decided to purchase the Beggs Building on Yates Street.

The Haultain property was offered back to the city but was refused. It was then offered for private purchase and bought by Mr. McClung in February, 1953.

Earlier this year, the property was again offered to the city. Mr. McClung suggested it might be developed as a park. The matter was considered by a committee of City Council, which decided a park was unnecessary there owing to the close proximity of Central Park.

Another open area in the city which is being subdivided for home-building purposes in the one-time Chinese vegetable garden south of Despard Avenue, between Richmond and St. Charles. Land in this area is owned by the city and Victoria realtor C. N. Montague.

The city is also offering lots for sale in the nearby Pemberton Woods subdivision.

Police Checking Woman's Claim 'Dumped' From Car

Saanich and Oak Bay police were both alerted after a woman claimed she was "dumped from a car" on Finerty Road at 3:20 a.m. today.

Eva Mitchell, Brunswick Hotel, told police that she had been thrown out by three American sailors. She was taken to Jubilee Hospital and given a check-up before being returned to her hotel.

Assault Accusation Made by City Woman

James Bernard Sullivan, a soldier stationed at Work Point Barracks, pleaded not guilty in Saanich police court today to assault occasioning actual bodily harm. He was remanded to Thursday and released in custody of the army. Police said the charge was laid following a party Thursday night when a young woman was treated at hospital for a blow on the nose.

The trial is being heard before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson. Counsel for the accused is H. A. D. Oliver.

College Night Classes Add History Course

A history course has been added to the list of first-year credit courses to be offered this year by Victoria College's evening division.

Prof. R. T. D. Wallace, director of evening division, in announcing the addition, explained that whether the course would concern itself with world history or solely Canadian history would depend on the wish of those enrolling.

Other first-year credit courses, announced earlier, are English 100, 101; German 90, 110, and Biology 100. Only second-year course offered this year is English 200, covering the fields of both literature and composition. Those enrolling for credit courses will attend lectures Tuesday and Thursday evenings from Sept. 28 to April 28. Fee for those seeking university credit is $45. Those not interested in obtaining credit may sit in on the lectures as auditors for $25.

Persons intending to take any of the credit courses, should contact the college registrar this week, Prof. Wallace said. Students must report for registration at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 23.

The evening division has scheduled 15 non-credit courses for the coming season. One of these, Art Education in the Elementary School, designed for school teachers, has already reached its limit of 25 and further registrations are not being accepted.

Separate Emergency Duties For CD, Armed Services

Maj. Gen. C. R. Stein, provincial civil defense co-ordinator, today called "completely unfounded" reports that in the event of an emergency CD would be taken over and controlled by the armed services.

After talking to Ottawa authorities, the general said: "There is no intention whatsoever that CD will be superseded in the event of an emergency by a military organization controlled by the armed services."

He said the armed services in the event of a crisis "will have their own job to do and most possibly will not be available. And should they be available they would work in conjunction with civil defense."

"All our co-ordination with the armed forces at the present time is designed to that end," said Gen. Stein.

Sooke PO Theft Suspects Held

RCMP announced at press time that two suspects had been arrested in connection with the unsuccessful theft early today of a safe from Sooke post office.

The theft was committed at 3:20 a.m. by at least two men, and possibly four.

A party of 12 RCMP officers with search dogs are maintaining a manhunt in the vicinity of the Seventeen Mile House, Sooke Road.

The burglary was reported by Douglas Brownsey, storekeeper and son of A. Fred Brownsey, postmaster, who lives in quarters above his store and the neighboring post office.

He was awakened in time to see some men loading a safe into a 1947 panel truck. Fearing they might be armed, he waited until they had driven off before racing to his downstairs telephone to call police.

Const. Peter Humphries, Sooke detachment, set out after the men immediately. He overtook them at the Seventeen Mile House, also known as the Royal Ensign Hotel, where they stopped suddenly and took to the woods on foot.

Neither Brownsey nor Const. Humphries could say how many men were involved in the theft.

The truck and safe were found to be unharmed, but Brownsey learned later that about $6 in silver had been stolen from his store.

The burglars entered the building by jimmying the main door.

Police Magistrate Named for Courtenay

John Ryland today was appointed police magistrate for the city of Courtenay, succeeding George Pidcock.

Mr. Pidcock resigned effective September 30 at age 75, under provisions of the Municipal Act. Mr. Pidcock held the post since 1934.

Water Wagons First At New City Pub

Thirsty Johnson Street citizenry received a rude shock shortly after 10 a.m. today when fire department ladder wagon and pumper roared up beside the Drake Hotel—where the first public house Victoria has had in 39 years was scheduled to open today.

"Burning up before we get our first drink?" queried a man on the street, whose nose shortly before had pressed against the large glass windows of the tavern, checking last-minute preparations.

But it wasn't the tidy new public house that was aflame. Fire was in a room of the Loron Hotel, 563½ Johnson Street. A careless patron had set his mattress ablaze.

Firemen were there and gone within 10 minutes.

First City Pub Ready, Waits for License

Victoria's first public house in 39 years, the Drake Hotel, Store and Johnson Streets, was all set to open at 10:30 a.m. today, but at press time had still not received its license from the Liquor Control Board.

Jim Brownlee, managing director of the hotel, thought he might have been able to open last night, but there was no word from the LCB.

Tapmen and waiters are all set to go, and outside the hotel a little eddy of people swirl around for a few minutes, disappear, and are replaced by others.

The delay in receiving the license means a distinct loss of business for Mr. Brownlee.

Liquor Control Board chairman, Col. D. McGugan, was asked today if the Drake would receive its license.

"No comment," he said. Meanwhile, $50,000 worth of furnishings and equipment just waits.

Shawnigan Lake Man Charged With Bigamy

Sawmill Worker Alleged to Have Married Three Times Without Intervening Divorces

A charge of bigamy has been laid by Duncan RCMP against a 22-year-old Shawnigan Lake youth who is currently held by city police on charges of obtaining credit by false pretenses.

Dark, handsome Hugh Campbell, a sawmill worker, is times without obtaining legal separation from any of his spouses. The latest "wife" is 17 years old, police say.

Campbell was employed as a sawmill laborer at Shawnigan prior to his arrest. The third marriage charged allegedly took place in Duncan.

The accused will be taken to Duncan for court appearance on the bigamy charge following conclusion of his case here.

LAWYERS WRANGLE

Campbell was central figure today in a rare court wrangle between defense attorney J. J. Proudfoot and city prosecutor Alan Bigelow.

Charged originally with uttering a forged document, Campbell last Friday heard the Crown ask for dismissal of this charge when a new charge of obtaining credit by false pretenses was laid.

Mr. Proudfoot immediately moved for dismissal with a plea of "autrefois acquit." This plea is so seldom used that Magistrate H. C. Hall said today he had never heard it in his court before.

Magistrate Hall ruled against the defense following lengthy references by Mr. Proudfoot to earlier cases, one dated as far back as 1875.

The court said the alleged facts were not necessarily the same in each charge. A plea of not guilty was entered by the accused and trial was set for next Wednesday.

Zoning Change Sought for New Gas Stations

City Council is expected to give final approval Thursday to zoning by-law amendment to allow establishment of two new service stations.

Standard Oil Company of B.C. Ltd. has applied for rezoning of property from "commercial" to "garage" at the northwest corner of Shelbourne and Hillside, and on the west side of Douglas, between Alpha and Speed.

Council will hear objections from anyone opposed to change in zoning at 2 p.m. Thursday. But unless strong arguments are raised, the change will be finalized.

Separate Emergency Duties For CD, Armed Services

Maj. Gen. C. R. Stein, provincial civil defense co-ordinator, today called "completely unfounded" reports that in the event of an emergency CD would be taken over and controlled by the armed services.

After talking to Ottawa authorities, the general said: "There is no intention whatsoever that CD will be superseded in the event of an emergency by a military organization controlled by the armed services."

WATER WAGONS FIRST AT NEW CITY PUB

Thirsty Johnson Street citizenry received a rude shock shortly after 10 a.m. today when fire department ladder wagon and pumper roared up beside the Drake Hotel—where the first public house Victoria has had in 39 years was scheduled to open today.

"Burning up before we get our first drink?" queried a man on the street, whose nose shortly before had pressed against the large glass windows of the tavern, checking last-minute preparations.

But it wasn't the tidy new public house that was aflame. Fire was in a room of the Loron Hotel, 563½ Johnson Street. A careless patron had set his mattress ablaze.

Firemen were there and gone within 10 minutes.

First City Pub Ready, Waits for License

Victoria's first public house in 39 years, the Drake Hotel, Store and Johnson Streets, was all set to open at 10:30 a.m. today, but at press time had still not received its license from the Liquor Control Board.

Jim Brownlee, managing director of the hotel, thought he might have been able to open last night, but there was no word from the LCB.

Tapmen and waiters are all set to go, and outside the hotel a little eddy of people swirl around for a few minutes, disappear, and are replaced by others.

The delay in receiving the license means a distinct loss of business for Mr. Brownlee.

Liquor Control Board chairman, Col. D. McGugan, was asked today if the Drake would receive its license.

"No comment," he said. Meanwhile, $50,000 worth of furnishings and equipment just waits.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Plums in Profusion
In Victoria Stores

By PENNY SAVER

Every Friday, it seems, I find some sort of fruit that'll make into one of my favorite preserves. This week it's English Damson plums. I adore Damson jam, don't you?

If you answer "Yes" then buy Damsons in downtown Victoria for 35 cents for two pounds.

Plums are everywhere, nowadays. They are right in their most succulent prime and folks all over town are taking a few to work with them in their lunch bags. Too bad they aren't around all year, isn't it? They are so compact, so ideal for the lunch box!

Yellow egg-plums are the favorite of many... they are so-o-o juicy! They sell at 25 cents for two pounds. If you prefer Black Diamond or red egg plums, you pay the same price for three pounds. Italian prune plums are a little more. They sell at 29 cents for three pounds.

Honestly, I can't get over how fresh-looking the raspberries are. One would almost think the season had just begun... 35 cents a basket. Blackberries are two baskets for 39 cents and blueberries are 35 cents a basket.

Cantaloupes... Yes, they are still around... are 25 cents each, folks. Peaches are four for a quarter and Bartlett pears are five for a quarter.

Popular Gravenstein apples have a price tag of 25 cents for two pounds.

Switching to the vegetable scene, I find that Victorians are eating a lot of beans right now. Scarlet runner beans which are plentiful, sell at 19 cents a pound. Wax beans are 20 cents a pound and so are Kentucky Wonder beans.

Fancy some Brussels sprouts? They're 29 cents a pound. Vegetable marrow, this week, is 7 cents a pound and fresh green cabbage is the same price.

Bridal Car
Represents Homelands

Green and white satin and tulle ribbons and the traditional Irish harp, representing the nationalities of the bride and groom, decorated the car which drove Mr. and Mrs. William A. M. Georgeson from St. Luke's Church following their wedding.

The bride, formerly Joyce Olive Bryans, SRN, SCM, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bryans, Bray, County Wicklow, Ireland, and the groom is son of Mrs. M. Wiseman, Inverness, Scotland. Canon F. Pike officiated. J. Delamere of Victoria, gave the bride in marriage.

The bride wore a classic gown of white tulle, veil, train. Her full-length head-dress and she carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations and white heather. Her double strand pearl necklace was the gift of the groom.

Bridal attendants, Miss Olive Steacy, SRN, SCM, of Gorey, County Wexford, Ireland, and Miss Geraine Mervyn-Smith, SRN, SCM, of Camolin, County Wexford, Ireland, wore identical gowns of cornflower-blue taffeta. Their headresses were of matching tulle inset with halos of pink and blue rosebuds and their bouquets were of pink gladioli.

James Kerr was best man and ushers were R. Etches and J. G. Meyer.

Reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Delamere, 1255 St. Denis Street, where guests were received by Mrs. Delamere and Mrs. J. Kerr. J. Delamere proposed the toast to the bride.

For her honeymoon, the bride donned a pale blue tailored suit with matching hat, red accessories and corsage of red rosebuds and white heather.

Clowns and balloons will entertain children at the second annual Country Fair to be held by All Saints' Ladies' Guild on Saturday. Getting a preview

Fair Planned for Building Fund

The building fund of All Saints' Church, View Royal, will benefit from proceeds of the second annual Country Fair arranged by the Ladies' Guild, under convenerhip of Mrs. G. J. Ireland and Mrs. G. R. Reynolds.

Home of J. E. Goldring, 320 Bessborough Avenue, will be setting for the affair which will take place Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m.

A children's corner is a special feature of this year's sale, with fish pond, children's stall and parcel post. Mrs. H. R. Knight, Mrs. W. E. Mills and Mrs. R. B. Rant are in charge, while Mrs. M. Pope and Mrs. Gilbert Hogg preside at a refreshment booth.

There is also to be a children's baking contest with Mrs. A. B. Crowe and Mrs. R. D. Pearce in charge and judging by Mrs. Graham of the B.C. Electric Home Service Department.

Dancers from the studio of

Scottish Bride
For Victoria Man
In City Ceremony

In a ceremony at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church recently, George M. Houston, 1023 Esquimalt Road, son of Mr. Magnus Houston and the late Mrs. Houston, of Thurso, Scotland, took as his bride Miss Margaret Willox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Willox, of Aberdeen, Scotland. Rev. J. L. W. McLean conducted the service.

The bride, who had arrived in Victoria from Scotland two weeks before her wedding, chose a full-length gown of white organza over tulle, worn with a matching jacket with long lily point sleeves. A Marie Stuart cap held her finger-tip veil which was embroidered with true-lovers' knots. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white feathered chrysanthemums.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Mary Nicholls, who wore a full-length gown of blue silk in an off-shoulder style with short puff sleeves and full skirt. Her bouquet was mocha carnations in crescent formation. Best man was Colin Nicholls and the bride was given in marriage by David Mackay.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Nicholls, 4091 Quadra Street, where a toast to the bride was given by Mr. Nicholls.

For an up-island honeymoon, the bride donned a white dress, grey topcoat, white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. Houston are making their home at 1040 Burdette Avenue.

GIRL GUIDES

Home in Ottawa for Recent Sidney Bride

Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Coldwell, who were married recently in St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, will live at Rockcliff RCAF station, Ottawa, Ont., following their honeymoon in Seattle, Wash.

The bride, formerly Agnes Kathleen Pearson, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Pearson, 1221 Sixth Street, Sidney, and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Coldwell, 880 Tulip Ave., Victoria. Rev. G. H. Glover officiated at the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. J. V. Wark, New Westminster, an aunt of the bride, sang "Because," during the signing of the register and organist was Mrs. K. M. Tribute.

The bride entered the church, which was decorated with gladioli, chrysanthemum, zinnia and asters, on the arm of her father. She looked charming in her gown of fine nylon lace over net and bridal satin. A cap trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of net illusion and she wore the groom's gift, a set of pearl earrings and necklace. Red roses and lily of the valley formed her graceful arm bouquet.

Mrs. Gwen Campbell, Vancouver, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a full-length gown in pale pink net over tulle. She carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids, Misses Edith Tanton and Shirley Smith, wore similar gowns in pale blue and pale yellow, respectively. Their bouquets were of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. Little Miss Linda Coldwell was flower girl, in a frock of pink nylon eyelet. She carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. All attendants wore rhinestone necklaces.

Leonard Potter was best man and ushers were brother of the bride, Donald Pearson and Douglas Mann.

At the reception in Knights of Pythias Hall, mother of the young couple assisted them in receiving guests. Mrs. Pearson wore a dress of blue nylon lace over tulle with pink accessories and Mrs. Coldwell wore a dress of blue with check trim and black accessories. Both had corsages of pink roses.

Grandfather of the bride, N. E. Watts, proposed the toast. For traveling, Mrs. Coldwell donned a three-piece suit of medium blue with red accessories and corsage of red roses.

Handicrafts — The Women's Auxiliary of Langford United Church held the first of a series of handicraft classes this week at the home of Mrs. K. W. Dilabough, Sooke Road. Sewing and candle-making were started under direction of Mrs. T. W. Tingle. The class will meet next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. Matthias, 53 Dunford Road.

Have Your Gas Appliances
This (Yellow) Sticker?

NOTICE

This appliance is now ready
B.C. ELECTRIC-4-7121

Throughout the summer crews from the Victoria Gas Company have been calling on all B.C. Electric gas customers in Greater Victoria to prepare gas appliances for the change-over later this month to modern liquid petroleum air gas.

The above sticker on your gas equipment indicates that it is now ready for the new gas. It would be appreciated if you would take a moment to check each appliance for this sticker. If for any reason the appliance does not have a yellow sticker, please telephone us (4-7121, local 92).

Our servicing project on nearly 20,000 appliances has been a thorough one, and the reason for the above request is the possibility of people having arrived in the city with gas appliances since crews were in their particular district.

Newlyweds Make Home Here

A newly-married couple who are making their home in Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. William Karl Caird, who recently returned from a honeymoon spent traveling in the United States. The bride was formerly Miss Margaret Flora Bevis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bevis, 2532 Thompson Avenue, and her groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Caird, 234 Gorge Road West. Their marriage took place this month at the Victoria Truth Centre, with Rev. Emma M. Smiley officiating. Masses of late summer flowers were used by Mrs. Elrick to decorate the Truth Centre and Reginald Stofor sang "Because" during the ceremony, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. S. F. Chiverall.

The auburn-haired bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of nylon tulle over bridal satin, the skirt fashioned in three tiers with inset bands of lace. The bodice was of imported lace with batteau neckline trimmed with scallops. A matching, close-fitting cap of lace held her double-tier fingertip veil of illusion net and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and lily of the valley. A pendant and earrings of peridot were her only jewelry.

Solarium Site and Dormitories For Rural Students on WI Agenda

The area adjacent to and including the present site of Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay, will hold the limelight next week at conference of the South Vancouver Island Women's Institutes in Brentwood Community Hall. The meeting will convene all day Thursday, Sept. 23.

A resolution to be submitted by Cobble Hill WI, points out that many people have built permanent homes and are living in that locality and as the only seaford beach open to the public for many miles is situated in this area. Because of these factors it asks that the British Columbia government be urged to zone the area around the present site of the Solarium for residential purposes.

Those children from Gulf Islands and other outlying districts of Vancouver Island whose education is discontinued after Grade VIII due to the fact that there are no high schools in their districts will also be considered at the conference.

In a resolution to be submitted by Shirley WI the department of education will be asked to establish dormitories in some central place where these children can complete their education and learn to associate with others. At present, suitable boarding accommodation is rarely available at a price that the children's parents can afford, the resolution will point out.

Cedar Women's Institute will present a resolution requesting the government to re-impose the bounty on crows.

Mrs. M. Young will preside at the morning session when address of welcome will be given by Reeve Sydney Pickles.

Armand Brossard was best man and ushering guests to white flower-marked pews were Darryl Shields, brother of the bride, and Ralph Adolphe. The young couple were assisted in receiving guests at a reception at the Golden Slipper by Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Dickie. A three-tier cake was cut and messages were read from Zweibrücken, Germany, Tacoma and Vancouver. An old family friend, Major George Nicholson, proposed a toast to the bride.

Mrs. Dickie departed in a charcoal grey worsted suit, red velvet hat and bag, white stole and accessories and white orchid corsage. The couple will make their home at 349 Sylvia Street.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickie, Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brossard and Miss Wilma Wilson, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Shute and Mrs. E. Iverson, Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. A. Healy of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Gray, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. W. Chevalier and Mrs. C. Nash, Friday Harbor, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Proteau, Honeymoon Bay, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Haugland, Jordan River.

Life Membership

At September meeting of Lake Hill women's Institute life membership was conferred on Mrs. A. S. Moffat, a former president, who is leaving shortly to join her husband in England. Presentation of the pin was made by Mrs. W. Webster, a senior member and past president, and President Mrs. Roscoe Myles on behalf of the entire membership endorsed the message of affectionate good wishes which accompanied the gift "to one who has made such a fine contribution to the work of the organization." The presentation took place during tea, which was conveyed by Mesdames E. Glover, A. Vickers and W. Carpenter. Miss Ethel Bruce presided at the tea table.

Buy the family carton of 6 big bottles of Central Saanich; greetings by Mrs. C. Douglas, president of Brentwood WI and the reply by Mrs. I. Justice, Somenos WI. An address on civil defense will be given by Mrs. A. Shaw, president B.C. Women's Institutes and panels on work for the blind, plant disease, shell work and weaving will be held.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. E. H. Emery will preside; an address will be given by Mrs. S. E. Gummow, B.C. superintendent of institutes, who will also lead a discussion period.

Luncheon and afternoon tea will be served by the Brentwood, Royal Oak and South Saanich Institutes.

Singing Star Eddie Fisher Announces He'll Wed Debbie

NEW YORK (UP) — Eddie Fisher, the golden boy among the current crop of popular singers, is about to get engaged to movie star Debbie Reynolds against the best advice of thousands of teen-agers.

He loves the girl, the 26-year-old baritone said happily in an interview, confirming weeks of rumors. And she loves him.

They'll be reunited in Hollywood Saturday morning when Eddie arrives by plane to rehearse for appearances on two television shows. His split-second week-end schedule, which calls for his return here Tuesday for his own TV show, leaves almost no time for romance.

NOT RIGHT AWAY

"We're going to be engaged, but it won't be this week-end," the singer said, blushing like a boy in love. Maybe it was the red bathrobe, on the other hand. He was in his hotel apartment overlooking Central Park, lounging in pajamas and a bright red wooly bathrobe.

Fisher, regarded as the hottest thing in the singing business now, is a slight, shy-looking young man with a crew cut whose income has climbed to at least $750,000 a year and whose devoted fans, mostly teen-agers, send him an average of 4,000 letters a week.

"I've had a lot of advice lately from kids 14 and 15 years old about whether I should get married or not," he said amiably. "Some of them write, and say not to do it or they'll quit the fan clubs."

Eddie himself once said that "love and show business are like oil and water."

CHANGES MIND

Now he's changed his mind. He still says "If we get married," when he talks about Debbie, even though he admits they'll be officially engaged in the near future, but he leaves no doubt the word should be "when" and not "if."

"I never thought I'd marry anybody in show business," he admitted. "I didn't think two people with careers could be happy together. If two people in show business do get married, I think they should work out a plan so they can be together all the time. A marriage isn't a marriage when you're not together."

His telephone bill is so loaded with long distance calls to Hollywood the total even impresses a young man with Eddie's income.

"I call her many times every day," he said, launching into a glowing account of the girl of his choice. "She's the greatest. I could never ask Debbie to give up her career. She has too much talent, and she loves show business as much as I do."

"She can sing—you know, she had a record two years ago that sold a quarter of a million copies." He paused and sang a few words from Debbie's record, "Abadaba Honeydew."

"She was a girl scout for 13 years. She plays the French horn. She even wrote a song for me and sang it to me over the phone the other day. It was really good."

The only other girl Eddie ever said he loved was a pretty chorus girl at the Copacabana night club where he sang early in his career. He said later his career got in the way of that romance.

Actress Judy Garland Expecting in April

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Judy Garland's studio Thursday disclosed that she and producer Sid Luft are expecting their second baby in April. Wed in 1952, the couple have a daughter, Lorna. Miss Garland has another daughter, Lisa, by her marriage to director Vincente Minelli.

JANE RUSSELL

Christian Dior Fails To Debosom Our Jane

PARIS (UP)—Paris fashion designer Christian Dior's new "flat-chested look" met its biggest challenge Thursday night. Bosomy American movie actress Jane Russell walked into Dior's famous salon to prove to the French fashion czar that "if a woman's got it you can't do anything to suppress it."

"Do not worry," a Dior aide promised, "Miss Russell presents us with no problems we cannot overcome."

But there were "oh-la-las" and murmurs of "mais, c'est formidable" (but that is quite a challenge) when Miss Russell strode into the salon after a 30-minute fitting session behind locked doors. What Miss Russell had in a bathing suit, she still had—Dior and his fashion decrees notwithstanding.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Occur Class) A (Don't Miss) BB (Worthwhile) (B For Bait Days) C (To be in time)

(BB) "SECRET OF THE INCAS" (Capitol) — Rogues Charlton Heston and Thomas Mitchell mean to wrest a hidden fortune from an Inca excavation no matter who is killed during the operation. Heston takes along Nicole Maurey, an Iron Curtain escapee, into the exotic Peruvian Andes and the scene is set for all sorts of skulduggery.

There they find that Professor Robert Young and his expedition are already at work digging towards the treasure house they themselves are after. With Young is singer Yma Sumac, who has to be heard to be believed, and all the Inca workers. Before long Young has fallen for Nicole, Heston is drooping at the thought of the treasure and Mitchell has arrived on the excavation to make things nasty for all concerned.

IN SPITE OF THE BEAUTIFUL scenic camera work the plot of "Secret of the Incas" is fairly standard. And where

U.S. Firm Wants to Gamble On Ripple Rock Removal

VANCOUVER (CP) — An American engineering corporation is willing to gamble on removing Ripple Rock on a no-cure, no-pay basis, it was reported yesterday.

L. B. DeLong, inventor of a mobile drilling platform which has proved a big success in the search for oil below the floor of the Gulf of Mexico, is convinced his invention could be used successfully at Ripple Rock.

The shoal, located 125 miles north of Vancouver in Seymour Narrows, has been an engineering challenge for years and is considered the worst navigation menace on the B.C. coast. Felix Schlickelsen, co-inventor of the rig, said in Vancouver the rock could be drilled away from the floating platform.

JUST for the RECORD

JET LADY: In London, Eng., Mrs. Beatrice Hardy is an 82-year-old lady in a hurry.

She went to London airport Thursday to book a seat on a flight to Switzerland insisting "it must be a jet."

"I've no time for the slow moving Dakotas and the like," she said. "Give me speed every time."

She got the seat on a turbo-prop airliner where jet engines drive propellers.

GOOD WORD: In Albany, N.Y. the state tax department yesterday received a $100 bill in the mail with a slip of paper with one word on it: "Conscience."

FAME: In Charleston, Ill., Prof. Kevin Guinagh doesn't know whether he'll try writing a third book or not.

Last year Guinagh got $500 for his four-year work in translating Virgil's "Aeneid," while his wife won $1,000 in a 25-word slogan contest.

NO FAIR: In Miami Beach, police charged William Becker, 19, with disorderly conduct yesterday for watching strippers strip.

Police said Becker was peeping through a ventilator in a night club dressing room.

CHANGED: In Monroe, La., Park Commissioner Wayne Huckabay has stocked the municipal pool with fish. The pool, no longer used for swimming, will be opened to kids who want to go fishing.

United Church Council Split On Secretary

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—The United Church of Canada's 16th general council unexpectedly split five ways today on a choice for the secretaryship, the church's highest administrative post.

Very Rev. C. M. Nicholson's committee on vacancies introduced a list of nominees for various council offices. When the Halifax, clergyman submitted the name of Dr. Ernest E. Long of Toronto's Humbert Street United Church for the permanent post of council secretary, delegates named four more nominees.

Still in the running were Dr. Long, Rev. James A. Fraser of Imperial, president of the Maritime conference, and Rev. Richard N. Davidson of Grace United Church, Brampton, Ont. Eliminated as balloting progressed were Rev. Dan. Gaynor of Chatham, Ont., and Rev. Dwight Powell of Nanton, Alta., secretary of the Alberta conference. Dr. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, who died this year, was former secretary.

Voting will continue this afternoon until a secretary is elected. Rev. Robert Elliott of Regina was elected assistant secretary of the board of home missions.

Judge Rules Mountie Negligent in Accident

WINNIPEG (BUP)—A Royal Canadian mounted police constable who asked damages for injuries he received in a traffic accident was declared the negligent party in Court of Queen's Bench here Thursday.

The damage action arose out of a collision last November on the Trans-Canada Highway east of Winnipeg when a car driven by Constable George Douglas Currie collided with a truck driven by German Nilson.

Mr. Justice G. E. Tritschler, in his judgment, awarded Nilson, the defendant, $2,025 on his counter claim.

St. Laurent-Duplessis Battle Sees Tension Mount in Quebec

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
QUEBEC (CP)—Storm clouds gathering on the Quebec political scene for a week are expected this week-end to unleash thunderbolts that will rumble right across this French-speaking province.

Political observers are speaking in terms of an all-out clash between Quebec's two top political leaders, each powerful in his respective political sphere. Prime Minister St. Laurent and Premier Duplessis.

Published reports Thursday quoted "official circles" on Quebec's parliament hill as saying Mr. Duplessis is set to make "an important" press conference statement in reply to a speech made by Mr. St. Laurent in Montreal last week.

ST. LAURENT TO SPEAK

Prime Minister St. Laurent is expected to make "an important" speech Saturday night when he inaugurates the new Reform Club in Quebec City.

This situation has been building up since Mr. St. Laurent's speech aboard the liner Saxonia in Montreal a week ago. His remarks that Canada's growth and increasing influence is welcomed everywhere except behind the Iron Curtain and among some persons in Quebec cut provincial government authorities.

Saturday, Solicitor-General Rivard, Quebec's new transport minister and right-hand man of Mr. Duplessis, termed Mr. St. Laurent's words as "regrettable and unjust."

VATICAN ISSUE

The fact that Canada has an ambassador in Russia and none at the Vatican, a controversial point in Roman Catholic Quebec, was injected into the issue by Mr. Rivard.

So was Quebec's new income tax, disagreement over which brought Quebec-Ottawa relations to the simmering point last spring.

This and Quebec's lone refusal to sign a taxation agreement accepted by Canada's other nine provinces, as well as its cool attitude toward joint power development of the St.

Lawrence seaway are said to be factors in the current situation.

Others are Quebec's refusal to accept grants for university education and for construction of a trans-Canada highway.

Rehabilitation Co-Ordinator Named for B.C.

C. E. Bradbury, Vancouver, today was appointed provincial rehabilitation co-ordinator for B.C., under terms of a provincial-federal labor department agreement.

He has been selected to develop a plan to co-ordinate rehabilitation services of public and private agencies working with disabled persons. Mr. Bradbury's headquarters will be in the health branch offices of the legislative buildings, and he will work directly with the deputy minister of health.

His rehabilitation program will be concerned with vocational training, placement services, and services provided under the department of national health and welfare's medical rehabilitation grant.

Mr. Bradbury has been engaged in rehabilitation work since 1947, when he was appointed rehabilitation director for the B.C. Tuberculosis Society. Since 1949, he has served as rehabilitation officer with the TB control division of the provincial health department.

Newsprint at Near-Record Production

MONTREAL (BUP)—Both production and export of Canadian newsprint maintained a near-record pace during August, it was reported today.

The Newsprint Association of Canada said production last month totaled 503,145 tons, a 3.8 per cent increase over August last year. Output for the first eight months of 1954 amounted to 3,914,830 tons, up 3.9 per cent from the same period in 1953.

The United States continued as Canada's biggest customer during August, taking 414,805 tons, but the shipments were down slightly from the same month last year. There was a marked increase, however, in newsprint shipments to Britain, from 19,682 tons in August last year to 30,249 tons last month.

There was a 39.7 per cent jump in total newsprint shipments during August to all markets other than the United States and Canadian consumers, who took 33,369 tons. The shipments increased from 50,577 tons in August, 1953, to 70,670 tons last month.

Total shipments of Canadian newsprint to all markets during the first eight months of 1954 were up 3.6 per cent, from 3,763,401 tons to 3,897,086 tons, compared with the same period last year.

Agreed Charges Hearing in B.C. Next Month

OTTAWA (BUP)—W. F. A. Turgeon, special royal commissioner investigating "agreed charges," will hold hearings in Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton and Vancouver next month. It was announced today. Vancouver hearings will be on Oct. 12. Turgeon was named by the government last spring to investigate the system of granting low freight rates to certain shippers in return for volume shipments between specified points. The province of Alberta and a number of private organizations, including trucking interests, have asked for changes in the regulations governing agreed charges.

Banker Cashes Bad Cheques For $417,000

WHITESVILLE, Ky. (UP)—The Bank of Whitesville was closed today and townspeople were stunned after a cashier's admission that he accepted bad cheques worth $417,000 in the past four years.

Cashier Bernard Barrett, 50, was arrested by the FBI Thursday on a charge of misapplication of funds of a federally-insured bank. Whitesville is a town of about 700 persons.

Edward L. Boyle, agent in charge of the FBI office in Louisville, said the deficit was discovered during a routine inspection of bank accounts by the state bank examiner's office.

F. E. Bradley, state bank examiner, closed the bank after an emergency meeting of the bank's board of directors yesterday. The bank was opened in 1890. The directors met today to discuss terms of receivership.

Barrett insisted he thought the bad cheques would be made good. "I had the habit of indulging our customers," he said. "I got no profit out of it. It was all for the benefit of the customers."

The FBI said its investigation had not yet either proved or disproved Barrett's claim that he did not profit from the misapplication of funds.

Boyle commented, "It would be a lesser offense if Barrett did not spend the money on wine, women and song."

U.S. CARS FEWER IN AUGUST

OTTAWA (BUP)—American tourist traffic in Canada by automobile slumped last month, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Number of foreign vehicles entering Canada on traveler's vehicle permits was down from 546,185 in August last year to 515,130, a drop of 5.7 per cent.

The bureau said entries during the January-August period were down in all provinces except the prairies and the Yukon.

Valdmanis Gets 4-Years Jail

Adjudged Guilty of Defrauding
Nfld Government of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Dr. Alfred A. Valdmanis was sentenced today to four years at hard labor in penitentiary here after pleading guilty to a charge of defrauding the Newfoundland government of $200,000. A second charge of defrauding the government of $270,000 has been deferred.

SHIPS TANGLE IN VANCOUVER FOG BLANKET

VANCOUVER (CP)—The season's first fog early today was blamed for a pileup of shipping traffic at the First Narrows in Burrard Inlet.

A tanker, a heavy tug and a loaded car barge tangled with a dip dredge but no one was injured and damage to all vessels was not extensive.

The dredge was one of two engaged in deepening and widening the First Narrows under Lions Gate Bridge. The area was the scene of a marine mishap last fall when a CPR and Union Steamship passenger vessel collided in fog.

Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh in passing sentence told Valdmanis his term would begin only now, and time served in the penitentiary since his arrest April 23 would not be counted.

When the chief justice told Dr. Valdmanis he was to serve a four-year sentence in the local penitentiary, the prisoner's head sagged, his eyes blinked and he swallowed hard. Then he was led off by two mounties. The proceedings took less than five minutes.

ONLY JUDGE SPOKE
Apart from the court crier, the chief justice was the only person who spoke during the session.

Attorney-General L. R. Curtis said Thursday night the second charge would probably be dropped.

U.S., U.K. Agree On German Equality

Dulles Backs Churchill Government's Plan To Seek 'Full Equality' for Western Germany

LONDON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles of the United States agreed today with the Churchill government to seek "full equality" for Western Germany.

A communique issued after a three-hour meeting at the foreign office between Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Eden said:

"They agreed upon the need for speedy action and favored the early convening of a preparatory conference to consider how best to associate the German federal republic with the Western nations on the basis of full equality."

Dulles came here from Bonn, where he and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reached agreement on giving West Germany equal status in West European defense.

In Bonn, the two leaders issued their declaration just before Dulles took off for London. Their communique following a last-minute airport conference said German participation in the Western alliance should be "considered as soon as practicable with the other interested governments and following a NATO ministerial meeting, should be translated into concrete action."

Dulles lunched with Eden and Churchill at the prime minister's office for about 2½ hours. Then Dulles, Eden and their top advisers continued the talks at the foreign ministry.

In a statement at the airport Dulles told reporters:

"We in the United States greatly admire the initiative and vigor which Mr. Eden has shown in exploring the German problem and seeking a solution. I have come here to learn of his appraisal of the situation."

Sloan Picked to Settle Canada's Rail Dispute

B.C. Chief Justice Will Arbitrate Labor Issue

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Justice Gordon McGregor Sloan of British Columbia has been selected by the government as the arbitrator in the railway-union contract dispute.

The Canadian Press learned today that the cabinet plans to pass this afternoon an order-in-council appointing the 56-year-old Justice. He will lay down binding terms for new contracts between the big railways and non-operating unions representing 145,000 workers.

The unions had threatened to strike to enforce their demands, but in August they agreed to accept a government-appointed arbitrator's findings on being faced with the prospect of a strike-averting emergency session of parliament. The railways also accepted arbitration.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, arriving today from his Quebec summer home, was expected to announce the arbitrator's appointment after the cabinet meeting, which also will make formal the arbitrator's terms of reference.

Asked on arrival if he would confirm the Sloan appointment, Mr. St. Laurent said: "I won't confirm it until I announce it."

The terms of reference—defining the umpire's powers—were agreed to by the disputants at Montreal earlier this week.

The unions are seeking fringe benefits of 18 days a year sick leave, eight paid statutory holidays a year, longer vacations and higher overtime pay for Sunday.

Seasoned Arbitrator Sloan Has Headed Many Inquiries

The appointment as railways arbitrator is Chief Justice Sloan's first entry into arbitration under federal legislation, but he has headed a number of Royal Commissions for the British Columbia and federal governments.

One of these was on the operation of B.C.'s workmen's compensation act, and his report on that subject brought him a reputation in the labor relations field. His findings are quoted in Canada and the U.S.

He was asked to step into the province-wide logging strike which crippled B.C.'s woods industry in 1946. The Sloan formula arose from his arbitration of the dispute.

It was found to have approval of both labor and management, and the Chief Justice was named to head a standing arbitration board for the woods industry.

Since that time, neither side has named a member to the board, both have left the Chief Justice to act on his own, with his findings binding on unions and operators.

When another woods strike hit B.C. in 1952 union and management again asked the Chief Justice to intervene. Telephone and mining strikes also have been settled by Chief Justice Sloan.

LOGGING STUDY

aimed at conservation of forest resources. His 1945 report of 3,000,000 words was one of the largest ever turned in by a single royal commissioner in Canada.

Mr. Justice Sloan's royal commission was for the federal government. He inquired into fish traps and purse seine fishing in B.C.

The chief justice, a native of Nanaimo, B.C., was a judge of B.C.'s Court of Appeal at the time of his appointment.

Not long afterward, she heard a noise behind her store which she thought at the time was a car backfire.

"It could have been a shot," she said.

TWO ACRES OF PARIS LEFT BANK DESTROYED

PARIS (UP)—Firemen from 16 Paris companies today battled a runaway fire which destroyed two acres of the famed left-bank section of Paris.

PUC Releases Reasons For Bus Fares Decision

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Public Utilities Commission has reversed its stand and submitted written reasons for its decision to award the B.C. Electric Company higher fares in Vancouver and the Lower Mainland.

Earlier the commission had declined to amplify its decision on the request of the city of Vancouver.

City officials said the information was needed to help prepare a direct appeal to the provincial cabinet on the fare increases, the only avenue of appeal available to the municipalities affected.

In a letter today, commission chairman Percy George said failure of the B.C. Electric to show net returns anywhere near its allowed 6.5 per cent rate of return had influenced the decision. He said increased labor costs absorbed by the company and its need to show a good earning position in order to borrow funds for capital development were also factors. Council will consider the submission Monday.

Decision to reject the company's bid for higher fares on Vancouver Island, Mr. George said, was based on evidence showing the company's Island returns were showing a more rapid improvement than those of Mainland operations.

'American Tragedy' Murder Before Jury

WELLAND, Ont. (BUP)—An all-male jury retired this afternoon to debate whether to convict handsome Boy Scout leader Bruce MacLean of the "American Tragedy" murder of his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. for Debbie 'n' Eddie?

Eddie Fisher, singing star idyl of many teen-age girls, said today in New York he and movie star Debbie Reynolds will become engaged soon. By soon, the 26-year-old baritone explained, he meant around November when Debbie expects to go to Gotham from Hollywood for a visit. (See story, Page 21).

STATE OF PCs IN THE WEST

(Associate Editor, Regina Leader Post)

REGINA—The Saskatchewan Conservatives so far have been spared the squabbles which have rocked the party in Manitoba and British Columbia.

Dissension over George Drew's national leadership hasn't had any apparent repercussions among them.

A strong sentiment favors J. G. Diefenbaker, one of those prominently mentioned as a likely successor to Dr. Drew should he resign. This is natural since Mr. Diefenbaker is a Saskatchewan man, the lone Conservative in parliament from this province since 1945. But there's no evidence of a crusade among Saskatchewan's Conservatives to take advantage of what may develop into an opportunity for Mr. Diefenbaker to, at long last, achieve his cherished goal.

Marilyn's a mighty good swimmer, but it seems she ain't goin' to let herself git out o' her depth.

They say nobody wins a war, but in a gang war at least th' public wins.

The recent squabble in the Progressive Conservative Party in British Columbia has thrown the spotlight on the position of the party in the whole of Western Canada. The question now is: Can the P.C.'s come back as an effective political force in the west? Or have they been forced into a position from which they cannot recover? Out of 319 seats in the four western legislatures there are now only 15 held by Pro-Cons. 12 of them in Manitoba. In an attempt to assess the party's position in the west The Times has collaborated with newspapers in each of the other western provinces: the Herald in Calgary, Alta.; the Leader-Post in Regina, Sask.; and the Tribune in Winnipeg, Man., to bring its readers reports on "the state of the Progressive Conservative party in the West." Today's article deals with the situation in Saskatchewan.

Party standings in the legislatures are:

	Sec'd	Lib.	Lab.	CCF	Ind. BC	Ind. P.C.'s
B.C. (60)	27	4	1	14	1	1
Alta. (61)	32	4	1	5	1	2
Man. (52)	2	32	3	1	5	12
Sask. (52)	2	19	1	42	—	1
Totals (219)	61	51	5	62	7	15

The Grand Old Tory party of Saskatchewan seems too wan and disseminated after a quarter of a century of political disasters to spare any energy for squabbles. A situation does prevail which normally might be conducive to dissension over the provincial leadership such as happened in Manitoba.

A new white hope for the Saskatchewan Conservatives appeared last October when dark and handsome Robert Kohaly, 33-year-old Estevan lawyer, won the Souris-Estevan by-election to become the first Conservative in the provincial legislature for two decades. In the meantime, the provincial leader, Alvin Hamilton, remains outside after several futile attempts to win election.

ACROSS CANADA WITH MONSARRAT

P.E.I.'s LINK WITH MAINLAND TOO SMALL

Fifth of a Series

Departure from Prince Edward Island was delayed for two hours, owing to the crowded traffic on the ferry from Wood Island. There's no particular hardship involved in spending an extra two hours on P.E.I.—the reverse, in fact—but it can be trying when you spend it under a broiling sun, conscious all the time of a lapsed schedule.

The Wood Island ferry operates two boats, at two-hourly intervals; one holds approximately 25 cars, the other 14. It's a curious fact (pointed out to me by a dockside character in an ancient sea-faring cap) that there are always about 30 cars waiting for the 25-car boat, and always 20 for the 14-car job. Someone, in fact, has to be left behind; this time, it was me and half-a-dozen other luckless travelers.

A LONG WAIT
The trouble was that there was nothing to do. The view was confined to the dock, a huge pile of lobster traps, other people's cars, and other people—drivers in various stages of frustration and despair. It was very hot, as I have said; and we were there for two hours.

I polished the radiator, cleaned the windows, adjusted the slow-running gear on the carburetor, and then adjusted it back again. The sun beat down fiercely. I looked at my watch. Only 15 minutes had gone out of 120.

There was a honeymoon couple in the next car, which was labelled "Just Married" in free-hand chalk on the door. Presently they got out, and wandered off out of sight down the beach. All very well for them.

I listened to the radio, heavily weighted with saccharine commercials about various kinds of soaps and detergents. All too soon, I knew by heart which one was good for my complexion, and which one would ruin my hands next wash-day.

I talked to a friendly man who sold motor-cars in the low-price field. His trouble was that there were too many other people trying to do the same thing. He told me something so wicked that I have forgotten about it, about trade-in allowances. It sounded a very tough league.

CROSSWORD PRIZE JUMPS TO $250; NO WINNERS

The Times weekly crossword prize jumped to $250 for a bonus winner today when for the seventh straight week no one came up with a correct solution. There were several sticklers, but the one that puzzled most was the seemingly easy answer "late" for No. 10 across, "a player becoming—may well be worried about letting the other players down." Complete solution is on Page 25, along with Puzzle No. 78, for the $250 award.

FINGERPRINT CLUE PROBED IN MAINLAND MURDER

FINAL BULLETINS

Armed Robber Found Guilty

Roy Robertson was found guilty of armed robbery by an Assize Court jury today after three hours deliberation. The verdict, returned at 2:55 p.m., contained a recommendation for leniency. Maximum penalty is 14 years and a whipping. He will be sentenced by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson at the conclusion of the assizes.

Robertson was accused of stealing $10 from Thomas Flynn, 553 Raynor Street. He was alleged to have broken a beer bottle and pointed it at the neck of Flynn and demanded the money.

MacLean Acquitted of Murder

WELLAND, Ont. (CP)—Bruce MacLean, 23-year-old office worker, today was acquitted of a charge of murder in connection with the drowning of his 20-year-old wife, Elizabeth Doreen, in a canoe upset 13 months ago. A jury in Ontario Supreme Court deliberated three hours.

Guard Shot to Death as Cons Flee

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Three convicts, holding a guard hostage, rammied the gates of the Nevada state prison with a milk truck today as other prisoners watched quietly. The guard was found shot to death a few minutes later. The trio made the bold escape as the prison's 350 convicts were milling about the main courtyard after breakfast.

Pope Delivers Vigorous Speech

CASTELGANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Pius XII delivered a vigorous 10-minute speech tonight. It was a heartening sign that he had conquered a new attack of hiccups.

The 78-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff, who had interrupted a 35-minute speech four times Thursday night due to fatigue showed no signs whatever tonight of illness.

Fresh Fishmen Accept Wage Hike

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fishermen union announced today that the majority of 700 fresh fish workers in the province voted to accept a 10 to 15-cent hourly wage hike offered by the canning companies. The union said that the acceptance will indefinitely postpone a strike vote scheduled for Monday.

Lewiston Wants Vancouver, Edmonton Out of Ball Loop

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Directors of the Lewiston Broncos of the Western International Baseball League Thursday passed a resolution aimed at cutting Vancouver and Edmonton from the league circuit next season.

In addition, the directors passed a motion opposing play with Edmonton in 1955.

They gave no reasons for the proposals, heard as business manager Tom Taber handed in his resignation and president James B. McGonigle indicated he would quit office as soon as

Dr. Valdmanis Gets 4 Years

Pleaded Guilty to Defrauding
Nfld Government of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Dr. Alfred A. Valdmanis was sentenced today to four years at hard labor in penitentiary here after pleading guilty to a charge of defrauding the Newfoundland government of $200,000. A second charge of defrauding the government of $270,000 has been deferred.

Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh in passing sentence told Valdmanis his term would begin only now, and time served in the penitentiary since his arrest April 23 would not be counted.

When the chief justice told Dr. Valdmanis he was to serve a four-year sentence in the local penitentiary, the prisoner's head sagged, his eyes blinked and he swallowed hard. Then he was led off by two mounties. The proceedings took less than five minutes.

Apart from the court crier, the chief justice was the only person who spoke during the session. Attorney General L. R. Curtis said Thursday night the second charge would probably be dropped.

Dulles Backs Britain's Plan For Germany

'Full Equality' Under Proposal

LONDON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles of the United States agreed today with the Churchill government to seek "full equality" for Western Germany.

A communique issued after a three-hour meeting at the foreign office between Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Eden said:

"They agreed upon the need for speedy action and favored the early convening of a preparatory conference to consider how best to associate the German federal republic with the Western nations on the basis of full equality."

Dulles lunched with Eden and Churchill at the prime minister's office for about 2½ hours. Then Dulles, Eden and their top advisers continued the talks at the foreign ministry.

In a statement at the airport Dulles told reporters:

"We in the United States greatly admire the initiative and vigor which Mr. Eden has shown in exploring the German problem and seeking a solution. I have come here to learn of his appraisal of the situation."

Dulles came here from Bonn, where he and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reached agreement on giving West Germany equal status in West European defense.

In Bonn, the two leaders issued their declaration just before Dulles took off for London. Their communique following a last-minute airport conference said German participation in the Western alliance should be "considered as soon as practicable with the other interested governments" and following a NATO ministerial meeting, should be translated into concrete action.

ROCKS ISSUE ULTIMATUM OVER FLOOR

Ready to Forfeit
Lacrosse Finals

It was practically certain at press time today that Victoria Shamrocks would meet Peterborough Trailermen in the first game of the Mann Cup Dominion Lacrosse championships at Peterborough tonight.

Latest weather report from Peterborough said that the "sun was shining" and that "there is an excellent chance that the game will be played." However, the Shamrocks have indicated that unless playing conditions are improved at Miller Bowl, they will make representation to the Canadian Lacrosse Association to have the remainder of the series moved elsewhere.

In a prepared statement that was handed to Inter-city League officials in the east for presentation to the CLA, Shamrocks officials indicated that failure to comply with their requests could mean their forfeiture of the remaining games in the series. (See story Page 10)

CROSSWORD PRIZE JUMPS TO $250; NO WINNERS

The Times weekly crossword prize jumped to $250 for a bonus winner today when for the seventh straight week no one came up with a correct solution. There were several sticklers, but the one that puzzled most was the seemingly easy answer "late" for No. 10 across, "a player becoming" may well be worried about letting the other players down." Complete solution is on Page 25, along with Puzzle No. 78, for the $250 award.

Sloan to Arbitrate Railways Dispute

B.C. Chief Justice Picked to Settle
Discord Involving 145,000 Employees

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Justice Gordon McGregor Sloan of British Columbia has been selected by the government as the arbitrator in the railway-union contract dispute.

The Canadian Press learned today that the cabinet plans to pass this afternoon an order-in-council appointing the 56-year-old justice. He will lay down binding terms for new contracts between the big railways and non-operating unions representing 145,000 workers.

The unions had threatened to strike to enforce their demands, but in August they agreed to accept a government-appointed arbitrator's findings on being faced with the prospect of a strike-averting emergency session of parliament. The railways also accepted arbitration.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, arriving today from his Quebec summer home, was expected to announce the arbitrator's appointment after the cabinet meeting, which also will make formal the arbitrator's terms of reference.

Asked on arrival if he would confirm the Sloan appointment, Mr. St. Laurent said:

"I won't confirm it until I announce it."

The terms of reference—defining the umpire's powers—were agreed to by the disputants at Montreal earlier this week.

The unions are seeking fringe benefits of 18 days a year sick leave, eight paid statutory holidays a year, longer vacations and higher overtime pay for Sunday.

Bloodstained Car Under Examination

Women Overheard Five Men Talking,
Sound of Car Backfire—Or Shot

VANCOUVER (CP)—Faint fingerprints found on fire-engine red convertible of Danny Brent, slain waiter, may provide the first major clue in his death.

The car was found 24 hours after Brent's bullet-riddled body was discovered Wednesday on the university gold course.

Police termed it a gangland slaying, possibly the work of hired gunmen.

In a day-long investigation Thursday, RCMP investigators removed all windows from the side of the car. They found bloodstains and grass clippings in the car.

The fingerprints were discovered on one of the door windows. Some other clues were found, but a police investigator said:

"So far these clues don't amount to much, but every last one of them is being checked."

WAITRESS QUESTIONED

An unidentified waitress was questioned at police headquarters, but authorities declined information on her visit. She was reported to have been a friend of the slain man.

Brent's body was held at the police morgue pending an inquest.

Conversation overheard by the aged woman proprietor of a market on the fringe of Chinatown was also being checked by police in the gangster-style slaying of Danny Brent.

Brent, 42-year-old head waiter, she said.

EEZZARD, ROCKY FIGHT TONIGHT

NEW YORK—Twice postponed-heavyweight title fight between champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles was scheduled tonight for Yankee Stadium.

Rocky was favored at 6 to 1.

Victorians can listen to a radio broadcast of the fight over KIRO starting at 8 Victoria time.

In a downtown liquor club, may have taken his last ride in his own car, a flashy red convertible. His bullet-torn body was found Wednesday on the 10th green of University golf course.

Mrs. A. M. Kocsis, operator of Granny's Market, reported to police Thursday that she overheard remarks by five men who alighted from a long black car just as she was closing Wednesday.

"Do your job well," she quoted one of the men as saying.

Not long afterward, she heard a noise behind her store which she thought at the time was a car backfiring.

"It could have been a shot,"

ACROSS CANADA WITH MONSARRAT

P.E.I.'s LINK WITH MAINLAND TOO SMALL

Fifth of a Series

Departure from Prince Edward Island was delayed for two hours, owing to the crowded traffic on the ferry from Wood Island. There's no particular hardship involved in spending an extra two hours on P.E.I.—the reverse, in fact—but it can be trying when you spend it under a broiling sun, conscious all the time of a lapsed schedule.

The Wood Island ferry operates two boats: at two-hourly intervals; one holds approximately 25 cars, the other 14. It's a curious fact (pointed out to me by a dockside character in an ancient sea-faring cap) that there are always about 30 cars waiting for the 25-car boat, and always 20 for the 14-car job. Someone, in fact, has to be left behind; this time, it was me and half-a-dozen other luckless travelers.

There was a honeymoon couple in the next car, which was labelled "Just Married" in free-hand chalk on the door. Presently they got out, and wandered off out of sight down the beach. All very well for them.

I listened to the radio, heavily weighted with saccharine commercials about various kinds of soaps and detergents. All too soon, I knew by heart which one was good for my complexion, and which one would ruin my hands next wash-day.

I talked to a friendly man who sold motor-cars in the low-price field. His trouble was that there were too many other people trying to do the same thing. He told me something so wicked that I have forgotten about it, about trade-in allowances. It sounded a very tough league.

The ferry boat appeared slowly over the horizon, a full hour before she reached the dockside. Very tantalizing. The honeymooners appeared.

I polished the radiator, cleaned the windows, adjusted
